

Vote $126,800 For Streets; $129,266 For Nonantum Library

After listening to the objections of five members against advancing three of the streets on the list, the board of aldermen Monday night voted $126,800 for the acceptance of five adjacent streets in Oak Hill under the Betterment Act.

By a vote of 12 to 5, the following Oak Hill streets were accepted:

Wendell road from Parker street to Boulder road, $25,400; Placid road, from Wendell road to Boulder road, $22,400; Wendell road, from Dedham street to Boulder road, $23,500; Marcellus drive, from Parker street to Boulder road, $24,400; Boulder road, from Dedham street to Placid road, $31,000.

Chairman Edwin A. Terkelsen pointed out that the city would save approximately 20 percent in cost if all the streets were done at one time.

Opposing his contention was Alderman John F. Nixon, who pointed out that Boulder road is 24th on the list; Wendell road is about 40th, and Placid road is about 60th on the list. He stated that acceptance of all these streets would result in a delay of year for streets that are much higher on the priority list.

The Nonantum Branch Library proposition, under consideration for some time, was voted $129,266 by the aldermen Monday night and this will enable the construction of the branch to become a reality. Stuart M. Spaulding of the Public Buildings Committee reported that the sum will include the cost of equipment for the new building as well as the cost of land taking and the removal of the old fire station at the site. There were 18 bidders for the contract, he stated.

The Board also approved the appropriation, in advance of the budget, of $64,000 for public buildings for the purpose of complying with the law which requires the appropriation from revenue of 25 cents per $1000 valuation before a bond issue can be raised.

An appropriation of $7500 was passed for engineering supervision of the construction of the 24-inch water main between Boylston street and Commonwealth avenue.

Held again in the Finance Committee for further study was the recommendation that $18,493.95 be appropriated for the taking of land off Dudley road and Greenwood street, Oak Hill, for the proposed second high school.

Also held in the Building Committee was the request by the Building Commissioner for $5000 for a study of the city's electricity-generating plant at the high school.

The Board rejected the offer of Alfred Coletti of $4000 for 117,000 square feet of land on Wiswall road, Oak Hill Park, after Chairman Earle D. Wood reported that the Finance Committee felt the land should not be disposed of until a long range study is made to determine the best use of the entire tract, owned by the city.

By a vote of 16 to 1, the Board voted to authorize the mayor to enter into an agreement with the Town of Needham granting that town an easement permitting the draining of surface water into a brook on Newton-owned water works land in Needham.

Reappointed to a three-year term as a member of the Physicians Advisory Board was Dr. Walter O. Blanchard of 465 Centre street, Newton. His new term will start April 1.

An appointment by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., to the Board of Public Welfare of Charles H. Morang, 32, of 24 Chinian path, Oak Hill Park, was also approved. Mr. Morang, an attorney with offices at 73 Tremont street, Boston, is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and Boston University Law School. He served in the Army from 1943 to 1946 as a lieutenant in the Medical Administrative Corps. He is president of the Oak Hill Park Association and is a director of the Institute for Progress in Music.

Twelve residents were drawn by the Aldermen for duty as traverse jurors in Middlesex Superior Court in Cambridge, and will start their assignments Monday, April 1. They are:

Mary Jochnowites, 51 Algonquin road, Chestnut Hill; Harry Lebovich, 790 Walnut street, Newton Centre; John D. McDonald, 50 Farwell street, Newtonville; Gordon B. MacDonald, 180 Allerton road, Newton Highlands; Cecil Swaine, 115 Stanford street, Auburndale; Herbert C. Cole, 112 Quinobogun road, Newton Lower Falls; Albert E. Refuse, 41 Chase street, Newton Centre; Bessie D. Waldman, 29 Acacia avenue, Chestnut Hill; Attilio J. Spera, 364 Auburndale avenue, Auburndale; George Flanigan, 19 Fessenden street, Newtonville; Warren L. Carleen, 318 Boylston street, Newton Centre, and Irving Winer, 12 Chestnut Hill terrace, Chestnut Hill.

Prayers For Peace To Unite Globe Tomorrow

by Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian

The World Day of Prayer, which will unite Christians around the globe, in 143 countries, on six continents, and in more than a thousand tongues—in a great prayer-chain, will be observed in Newton tomorrow at a service at 2 p.m. in the Second Church in Newton, West Newton. Rev. Benjamin Andrews, pastor of the Central Congregational Church, will be the speaker, taking as his subject, "The Love of God Which Makes Us One." He will develop the theme universally taken as the text for the day, "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?"

Hungary, with its bitter struggle and deep, personal suffering, is far from the quiet Garden City of Newton, but many ripples from the boiling pool of its tumult are finding their way straight to Newton.

The service and theme for the World Day of Prayer this year were prepared by an Hungarian woman who speaks out of the experiences she has lived. Mrs. Serena Vassady, a writer, wife of a theologian, and mother of three children, suffered in war-torn Budapest and left the country. Now, in preparing the service of praise and penitence which will be universally followed around the world, she says she feels herself speaking for "those whose lips are sealed." Christian people here, as elsewhere, will be thinking especially of Hungary as they join in the service tomorrow.

Refugees from the strife in Hungary have come to Newton, as to other cities in the Free World. The latest comers, just arrived are the Orbans, who barely four weeks ago were living in Hungary.

Police Search For Car Involved In Fatality

Search is continuing by Newton police for a light-colored car, one of two vehicles involved in the death of a pedestrian early last Sunday morning.

This car is thought to have hit the prostrate man while the driver of the first car to hit the man, Ralph Zani of Lancaster street, Worcester, was attempting to assist the injured man. After passing over the victim, the second car sped away.

James J. Shea, 53-year-old business agent for Newton Local 132, Plasterers and Bricklayers Union, AFL-CIO, was the victim.

Shea was returning to his home at 136 Jewett st., Newton corner, about 12:30 a.m., when he attempted to cross Washington st., near Richardson st., and was hit by a westbound car operated by Ralph Zani of Worcester.

When Zani stopped to assist the injured Shea, a second car, also westbound, struck Shea as he lay on the pavement, and dragged the body about 40 feet. According to witnesses, the car that left the scene was possibly a 1951 model, and may have been damaged by the impact.

Shea, whose brother-in-law is Edward Connelly, superintendent of the MDC police, was returning from the Elks Lodge in Newton, where he was a member. He also belonged to the Newton Council, Knights of Columbus. A mason, he was business agent for Local 32 of the Plasterers and Bricklayers Union, AFL-CIO.

Dr. Peter Angelo, medical examiner.

Bonomi Case Again Arouses Issue of Capital Punishment

There's no doubt but that a sense of relief pervaded the office of Governor Furolo when the stay of execution for Domenick L. Bonomi was approved by the Executive Council.

That stay pushes into the future a showdown the governor presumably is not happy to anticipate. It's nothing new. No administration has relished the prospect of deciding matters concerned with capital punishment.

The reprieve granted Bonomi undoubtedly will be extended well beyond the 90-day period if his counsel can find matters to keep the case before the courts. The governor himself is not likely to do anything that will speed the night when the electric chair in the new Woburn State Prison is put to use for the first time.

For all practical purposes the electric chair has been out of use in Massachusetts since the administration of Paul A. Dever. But there never has been a Governor since a chair came into being at the turn of the century, who isn't known spiritual torture every time the lights flicked in the old Charlestown State Prison and the law aimed the supreme penalty from some man who had taken the life of another.

Mrs. Harry Anderson, chairman, Waban Donor Day, reported that 117 pints of blood were collected at the Union Church last week.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will again visit the city Wednesday, March 13, and will be stationed at the Newtonville Methodist Church (opposite Star Market) from 12:45 to 6:45 p.m. Please call LA 5-7-6000 for your appointment.

Individual Rather Than Party To Be Criterion for Selection

Two years ago, in its first attempt to place before the voters of the city a list of candidates for the city election which it believed represented the best qualified persons seeking the various offices on a non-partisan basis, a certain amount of dissension developed within the board of directors of the Newton Civic Association. Charges then were lodged that the endorsements were partisan, in some respects, rather than non-partisan as the association was dedicated to do.

Now, however, evidence that Newton leaders of both political parties and independents are dedicated to maintaining non-partisan government in the city is offered in the newly adopted amendments to the By-Laws of the Civic Association.

At a special meeting held for this purpose last week at the Newtonville Library, Ernest F. Dietz of Newton Centre, president of the association, presented amendments designed to insure that the Civic Association's activities on the local scene will be free of domination by either Republican or Democratic interests, that endorsed candidates will receive a more conclusive vote than in the past, and that all directors of the association will support the decisions taken. Two years ago as a result of the endorsements made by the association, two members of the board of directors resigned.

Carroll J. Hoffman of Newton Centre, chairman of the By-Laws Committee and Alvin S. Hochberg of Newton Highlands, vice-chairman in explaining the proposed changes, voiced the opinion that this organization, whose membership contains leaders of both political parties, must be realistic in successfully pursuing non-partisan ideals.

Only by imposing equal restrictions on members of both political parties in their partisan influence, they stated, can non-partisanship be achieved. For this reason, it was voted to limit the number of directors enrolled in the same political party to one-half the total complement of forty directors. No limitation was placed on the number of independents on the Board of Directors.

In order to insure that the nominating committee shall be free of partisan domination, it was also voted that not more than six of the total of thirteen shall be enrolled members of the same political party.

To avoid a recurrence of the 1955 dispute over endorsing procedure when two directors resigned as an aftermath of endorsement results in the Merrill-Cannon-Diman contest for two seats on the Board of Aldermen, a new procedure for voting on endorsements was adopted.

"In the event that more than two persons seek election to one office, a preliminary vote or votes shall be had and the one person receiving the fewest number of votes cast for endorsement shall be eliminated from consideration.

"This procedure shall be re-

Warn Parents On Scarlet Fever Here

Parents of children in Newton were warned this week by the Board of Health that due to the prevalence of German measles and scarlet fever and the similarity of the rash at some stages of these two diseases, that a doctor should be called to make diagnosis if symptoms appear.

It is felt that some light cases of scarlet fever are diagnosed by the parents as German measles and the child returned to school too soon, thus becoming a menace to other children who may develop a severe case of scarlet fever from a mild one.

Dr. Henry W. Godfrey, acting director of Public Health, advises all parents to call in their physicians, should any suspicious symptoms appear.

Third Polio Shot in April

Close to 14,000 Newton youngsters — pre-schoolers, grade school, junior high and senior high school students who have had two polio inoculations in the school program, are scheduled to receive their third about the middle of April.

Families who have received one or more inoculations from their private physicians will be notified by their doctors when vaccine is available for them.

Nurses of the Newton Health Dept. and Red Cross nurses aides and recorders will assist the doctors in the program as in the past.

"WE KNOW WHERE HUNGARY IS!" say the four grandchildren of Mrs. Edwin Kautz as they point out the spot on the globe to their new Hungarian friends, just arrived to start a new life in Newton. The children of Mr. and Mrs. Proctor W. Houghton, they are Geln, 10; Bruce, 8; Marc, 5, nad Laureann, 3½ years old. Behind them stand Mrs. Bela Orban, Mrs. Edwin Kautz who acts as interpreter, and Mr. Bela Orban.

To Give Talk on Middle East and Western Europe

Back from eight months in the Middle East and Western Europe, Rev. and Mrs. George E. Gilchrist will bring an up-to-date and comprehensive picture of these strategic areas when they speak to the Couples Club of Second Church (Congregational in West Newton), at the Club's monthly dinner meeting tomorrow (Friday).

On a sabbatical year of travel the Gilchrists had as their objective a carefully planned program of visitation of the work of Congregational Christian Churches in the Middle East and Europe. Visits of several weeks at a time in seven towns and cities in Turkey, as well as stops in Lebanon, Greece, France and Italy, together with visits during a month spent at Biblical sites throughout Jordan and Israel will be featured. They have completed a library of 1500 kodachrome slides of the pilgrimage and will exhibit selections therefrom.

Mr. Gilchrist says, "The Old and New Testament stories came alive to us as we visited the old monastic caves in the fantastic volcanic cones of Ugarit; we got our first view of the Land of Canaan as Moses did from Mt. Pisgah and entered the caves where 300 of the most valuable manuscripts of the Dead Sea scrolls were recently discovered. We have returned with strengthened convictions and enthusiasm of the value of the work our churches are doing and with a feeling that it is bearing an essential Christian witness, meeting tremendous human needs and acting as an effective way of furthering international understanding and world peace in crucial areas."

Tom and Peggy Williams, co-presidents, BI 4-3165, have announced that they and Mrs. Frederick Whelpley, LA 7-3475, will accept dinner reservations, and that Mrs. John Leonard and Mrs. Frederick Whelpley will

Mason, Cabot 6th Graders On Peterboro Trip

Sixth-graders of the Mason School of Newton Centre recently returned from a week of science exploration at Peterboro, N.H.

About seventy-five students were accompanied by two teachers, Miss Kenna and Miss Burgess, and one student teacher, Mr. Beech and a counselor from the Boston University Sargent Camp.

Planned activities kept the boys and girls active and occupied all day. They were shown the great variety of trees and birds, and had a chance to view the stars at night through the enormous telescope that Boston University donated to the camp. Each day the pupils held a meeting to plan their activities for the following day. Square dancing, singing, cook-outs, skating, hiking and arts and crafts were enjoyed by the group part of each day.

A highlight of this camping trip was to visit the Beaver Lodge, the Spillway for the control of floods in Peterboro, the Lemon Squeezer, the Meat Grinder and the Spinning Rock.

The Cabot School sixth graders will leave Monday, March 11 for Peterboro. Miss Fahy and Mr. Bee, the two sixth grade teachers will be their instructors and chaperones as well.

The camp at Peterboro is an outdoor educational camp run in conjunction with Sargent College, the physical education school of Boston University. The expenses for the children are paid in part by Sargent and partly by the city of Newton. Each student pays $13.50 which covers their transportation and food.

Youngsters have their regular subjects outdoors, and weather permitting, nature walks, astronomy, and conservation and wild life. The rest of the day may include skating, skiing, and arts and crafts. The children plan cookouts for supper and afterwards have amateur hours, square dancing and community sings.

Says Antarctica One of World's Beautiful Places

Despite the complete lack of human and animal life, Antarctica is one of the world's most beautiful regions says Father Daniel J. Linehan, Director of the Seismological Observatory at Weston College, who has been there on two expeditions. It covers an area of 6,000,000 square miles, larger than the United States and Europe combined.

Father Linehan pointed out that the Antarctic is used as a laboratory table for scientific experiments pertaining to our economic life. He covered the success of the Amundsen expedition, and the tragedy of the Scott expedition.

Statistics were given relative to ice thickness, water depths, and temperature. Also of great interest was the prolific life in the ocean, particularly the whales, which measure 150 to 200 feet in length, and weigh 150 tons. Father Linehan found the penguins (nature's caricatures of the Human Race) very amusing and good company.

Much credit must be given to the U.S. Navy, Coast Guard and the Army Air Force, for their cooperation in establishing bases, from which the scientists conduct their operations.

Thanks to Father Linehan, scientists and explorers who expose themselves to the dangers of Polar Expeditions, research of inestimable value is made available to all the world.

Dr. William Ward Ayer To Preach Here Sunday

Dr. William Ward Ayer of New York City will be the speaker at the Sunday morning service at 10:45, March 10, at the Immanuel Baptist Church, 187 Church Street, Newton Corner. Dr. Ayer was converted years ago under the preaching of Billy Sunday in Tremont Temple in Boston. He has risen to great heights as a preacher and evangelist, and while pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in New York, he became the third most well-known person in the entire city.

At the evening service, at 7:30 p.m. pastor George Linhart will continue his series of prophetic messages with this week's entitled "All Israel Saved." The public are cordially invited to both of these services.

ing quietly in Budapest. Mr. Orban did skilled work in the film industry, while the son of the family was a promising voice student at the Budapest Conservatory. Like most Hungarian students, Robert was active in the revolutionary movement, and was in grave danger from the Secret Police. So, without any great preparations, the family quietly left home about 5 a.m. one cold, dark morning, and set out to find a new world of freedom. Their experiences in the next days have become familiar to American people's ears, but few can visualize or imagine their hours of crawling through frozen, rutted fields, through weedy swamps, and dead, uneven corn fields, of hiding from the glare of Russian rockets sent up to illuminate any moving targets, and of striving in darkness and cold to determine whether or not they were still in Hungary or had actually crossed an unmarked line into Austria and freedom. Now these quiet, outwardly calm and well-poised people, so shortly removed from these horrors and struggles, are bravely facing a whole new world.

Among the Newton people who are doing the most to help the Orban family, are the people of Grace Episcopal Church, under the leadership of Rev. Robert W. Woodroffe, Jr. They have sponsored the family, found them a home and work for all three. But language is their greatest problem. Here they are being helped by Mrs. Edwin Kautz, one of the few people in this area who speak both Hungarian and English fluently. She, almost single-handedly, is working with numbers of Hungarian refugees who have come to Newton and surrounding communities. She is helping to "break the curtain of silence," as she describes it, which hangs between these newcomers and the Americans who want to help them. Mrs. Kautz has been told so many tales of trouble in the past few weeks that sometimes, she says, she has to ask these people not to tell her anymore. But she has

Joseph Barry Jr. On All-Star Tennis Committee

Joseph A. Barry, Jr., 211 Highland avenue, Newtonville, has been appointed a member of the United States-Canadian All-Star Junior Tennis Tournament Committee, according to an announcement by Chauncey D. Steele, Jr., President of the New England Lawn Tennis Association.

The tournament sponsors international junior boys' tennis. Last August the New England Junior All-Star Tennis team defeated the Canadian team at Ottawa, Canada. In 1957, the international match will be played in Massachusetts.

Barry is on the executive committee of the New England Junior Tennis League, and is a member of the New England Lawn Tennis Association and the United States Lawn Tennis Umpires Association.

heard wonderful stories, too, like the one told her by another family recently arrived and safely settled in an apartment, put to work, and looked after by American people. The Hungarian family wrote to their people in Budapest of the kindness they had found in America, and very soon a letter from Hungary told of the rejoicing there at their good fortune. Immediately upon receipt of the good news of their arrival, the letter from Hungary related, the church from which they had come called its members together secretly to hold a meeting of prayer—of gratitude for the safe arrival of their friends in America, and of petition for the welfare of the American people who had opened their hearts and homes to the refugees. The World Day of Prayer will find people behind the Iron Curtain praying for those in the free world just as it will find us here praying for the victims of oppression.

Mrs. Wallace M. Ross is Chairman of the World Day of Prayer here. Participating in the service briefly with her, will be other women from the United Church Women of Newton, Mrs. Homer G. Bean, Mrs. C. L. Southmayd, Mrs. R. Curtis Reed, and Mrs. James H. Burns, as well as Mrs. Carl Swan, Vice-President of the Newton Council of Churches. Rev. Ross Cannon, pastor of the host church, will assist in the service. Mrs. Ross Cannon will direct the choir of voices from participating churches, and Mrs. Hamilton Gifford will be at the organ. Mrs. Franklin S. Hoyt will be in charge of the altar, and Mrs. George H. Fernald is chairman of the ushers, who include: Mrs. Robert C. Casselman, Mrs. George L. Ware, Mrs. Charles Todis, Mrs. Monte Basbas, Mrs. Edwin Hills, Mrs. Beckett Jones, Mrs. Ralph Morgan and Mrs. L. Carleton Merrill.

Although the service is sponsored and arranged by the United Church Women, it is for both men and women, pastors and laymen. Mayor Whitmore, Jr., has been given a special invitation by Mrs. Burns, President of the United Church Women, to unite with the worshippers at this special service of world-wide significance.

Theft of Car Brings Arrest Of Youth, 20

Captured after a chase through Newton back yards during which one shot was fired, Joel W. Hurder, 20, of Clive street, Jamaica Plain, was held for Superior Court action following an appearance in Newton Court last Friday.

The court was told that Hurder was stopped on the Worcester Turnpike by Registry Inspector Joseph H. Gomez, who saw him speeding. Gomez charged that the defendant was operating a stolen car and driving after his license had been suspended.

While awaiting the arrival of Newton police Hurder broke away from Gomez and started running through backyards. Police fired a warning shot in the air and finally captured him.

Abatement Appeal Finally Settled For $60,000

The City of Newton and the owners of the property at 275-299 Walnut street, Newtonville, recently settled a suit for abatement of taxes for the years 1953 through 1956. The block of stores and offices is largely occupied by the Star Market Company. Due to be heard by the Appellate Tax Board several months ago, the case had been postponed several times because of the illness of principals representing both parties.

The appeal of the owners set forth that the City of Newton overvalued the property by $129,000 for the years 1953 and 1954, and by $185,000 for the years 1955 and 1956. The City refused to agree with any such opinion of valuation, and preparations were made to take the matter to the Appellate Tax Board. The case was settled on the day prior to the opening of the trial for a $60,000 assessment reduction for each of the years involved. On the basis of the current tax rate, the settlement amounts to approximately $2800 in taxes for 1956.

peated until only two persons remain under consideration for endorsement to said one office.

"No person shall receive the endorsement of this organization unless said person receives the affirmative vote of not less than 30 directors or their alternates present and voting at the endorsement meeting. More than one person may receive the endorsement of the Association for the same office, in the event that no less than 30 directors or their alternates present and voting at the endorsement meeting, so vote."

It was also voted to specifically authorize the Board of Directors of the Civic Association to publish and disseminate a slate card containing the names of the officers and directors of the association.

Mrs. Richard G. Mintz of Newtonville, chairman of the Endorsement Criteria Committee, presented a set of criteria to be used by the Board of Directors in examining the qualifications of candidates for office. These criteria will form the basis of a questionnaire to be submitted to each candidate.

President Dietz urged that all civic leaders throughout the city join in the Association's efforts "to promote efficient, representative and responsible government in the City of Newton," especially during this election year, and asked that responsible men and women present themselves as candidates.

Any Newton citizen may join the Newton Civic Association by sending one dollar membership dues to Wendell Freeman, secretary, 121 Homer st., Newton Centre.

It is understood that a meeting will be held shortly to elect new directors to complete the board.

WE WELCOME...

MRS. WILLIAM WEBB

Mrs. William Webb Top Toastmistress

Mrs. William Webb, 11 Carter street, Newtonville, was declared winner of the annual speech contest held by the Newton-Waltham Toastmistress Club at the Civic Room, Newton Highlands. Her subject was "Pattern for Living." She will represent Newton on March 7 at a contest in Lynn in competition with other toastmistress club winners.

The contest rules require speakers to give a ten minute prepared speech, plus a five minute impromptu talk, which was "When You Need A Friend." Mrs. Webb is chairman of volunteer social welfare aides in the Newton Chapter, Red Cross Home Service.

Mrs. John Wilson of Natick placed second as alternate with her story "The Last Straw."

Mrs. John Quirk was toastmistress of the evening and introduced the three judges, Doris Bramson Whitehouse, of Boston, former actress and now a teacher of speech; Charles Scipioni, Jr. of Newtonville, attorney and realtor, who is president of Toastmasters Club; and Robert Burkhardt, past president of Toastmasters, a Weston businessman residing in Newtonville, who also serves as vice-chairman of the Newton Red Cross disaster program.

A social hour with refreshments followed the contest.

-- What's Money?

One person's reply was, "Money is what the other fellow will take for what he wants to sell." This candid remark seems to be more than borne out by a unique exhibit that has been prepared by the Watertown Federal Savings and Loan Association. On view in their main window until the end of the month is a collection of unusual items that have been used as currency by civilized and savage peoples at various times throughout the world.

Included in the display are such diversified forms of money as a "property cell," a long chisel-shaped piece of stone, used as "property" by the Indians of British Columbia in Canada; porcupine quills, detalum shells, and wampum used by Indians in the U. S.; and porcelain gambling tokens used in Siam during the 19th century.

More akin to our own forms of currency are "pieces of eight" which originated during a shortage of small coins. It seems that, at one time, Spanish, Mexican and South American coins were cut, and usually counter-stamped, for use as change. The pieces were called bits and they varied in value. Usually, eight made a dollar, and one, therefore had the value of 12½ cents; hence our expression of "two bits" for 25 cents.

From Africa come such odd types of currency as brass ring money worn in coils around the neck, arms, legs and ankles; hippopotamus tusks, pieces of crystal salt; and Gizi pennies. The last mentioned, made by the Gizi tribe of Liberia, as a bar of twisted iron with cross pieces on either end. It varies in length from one to several feet. Should either end be broken off, the Gizis believe that its soul will escape. However, for a small fee its soul can be reincarnated by the tribe's medicine man.

Although these many unusual items are being presented by the Watertown Federal for the interest and enjoyment of passers-by, Mr. Sawyer (president) of the Watertown Federal informs us that business at their office is, and will continue to be, transacted in good old U. S. currency.

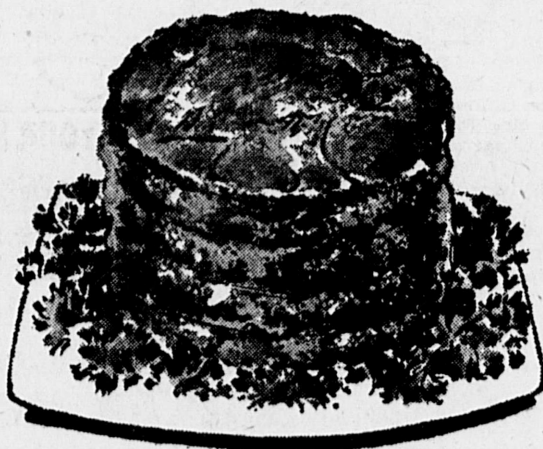

There are 105 counties in the state of Kansas.

A Family Affair

Most parents are concerned about what and how much their children learn in school. If Jane or Johnny can't read as well as the youngsters next door, Mother and Dad want to know the reason.

And they worry, too, about what their children do after school, what their friends are like, and how they use their free time.

The Girl Scout organization, this week observing its 45th anniversary, offers reassurance and tangible help to worried parents. In Scouting, more than two million girls from 7 to 17 are learning in their free time to take care of a home, to be healthy, to get along with people, to be good sports, and most important, to be good citizens.

Lumped together, Girl Scout activities add up to character building. It's character building in terms that Tom Sawyer would have understood and enjoyed, fun and adventure.

Girl Scouting exists here and in other communities because many parents are concerned about what their children do after school hours. Women volunteer to serve as troop leaders. Men give a few hours to committee meetings or act as consultants. They are the people who translate character building and citizenship into the excitement and adventure children love.

They are making good citizenship as well as Girl Scouting a family affair.

Per Capita Debt

In a statement issued last week, the Newton Taxpayers' Association aptly points out that this city has the highest per capita debt of any city in the State and that revaluation will not be a significant factor after this year.

Newton, like many other communities, must now face up to the fact that its property valuations are approaching the maximum, if not within the next five years, then surely within the next 10 to 15 years. Two factors make this evident. First, the vacant land area is approaching the saturation point, unless, of course, zoning ordinances are altered, which may be a very debatable issue from the private property owner; secondly, much of the property now existing is reaching an obsolescent point and either must be replaced or have a depreciative effect on adjacent property. These facts are hard to dispute.

The Taxpayers' Association would call a halt to a "fairly liberal debt policy" as it involves too much of a risk for the future. This we believe is sound logic.

The present per capita debt is by no means attributable to the present administration. It has been building up over the years, and probably justifiably so, yet the fact remains that it must be paid off and that to add further to the per capita burden of property owners, will make the future uncertain, if not difficult.

Political Overtones

Because the organized forces which oppose capital punishment may get further with their objection this year than they have in the past, there'll be no rush to execute the Scituate contractor convicted of slaying his wife.

His crime was one of the most heinous in character. The evidence was built in good measure on the element of pre-meditation. No hint of insanity was offered in defense. The State Supreme Court has found no error in the law. Highly capable Judge Frank E. Smith presided.

Time is working on Bonomi's side. He will not die next week, as an order of the court originally directed. In all probability, he will not go to the chair, if he ever does, until this session of the Legislature has debated once again the issue of capital punishment.

If a bill sponsored by District Attorney Stephen A. Moynahan of Springfield should gain adoption, Bonomi's fate may not be determined for a matter of years. The Moynahan bill seeks to have the voters of the State decide by a referendum whether they want to retain capital punishment. If such a bill is passed and the question is placed before the public, the final decision on Bonomi—whatever it may be—might not be reached until late in 1958 or even in 1959.

How would the voters decide on the retention of capital punishment? Who can tell? In recent years the pressure on the Legislature by organized groups opposed to the electric chair has been terrific. Each year the pressure has gained in volume. Each year the legislators have rejected the proposed abolition, even though the last two Governors in effect have rendered capital punishment void.

The issue remains one of the major problems before the present legislative session. The how and when of its solution is likely to delay for some time the concluding chapter of the story of the State vs. Domenick Bonomi.

Two Milk Board Members Voted Against Gov. Furcolo's Client

A hairline question exists as to whether Governor Furcolo is violating the Constitution in persuading eight judges to sit in an advisory capacity at the hearing on the ouster of Matthew J. Collins from the State Milk Control Board.

Some recognized authorities on constitutional law maintain that Furcolo is acting properly and within his legal rights in following the precedent-establishing procedure he has outlined.

Others equally eminent in their field insist that a borderline point of law is involved and that legal ramifications conceivably could develop from the Governor's action in having members of the judiciary participate in a matter that is strictly of an executive nature.

For all practical purposes the judges will be making a decision which the law requires be made by the Governor of the Commonwealth. The Governor has declared that he will make the decision. Technically that is so. But he has made it plain that his ruling will follow the recommendation of the judges.

The Milk Board removal controversy of and by itself is, of course, an extraordinary one. Furcolo, on the basis of his own statements, is undertaking to remove two members of the board, one a Democrat and the other a Republican, for their actions in a case in which the present Governor served as an attorney.

In short, Furcolo apparently is undertaking to fire two board members for ruling they made against his client. The background of the case is that Furcolo last year, prior to his gubernatorial campaign, served as an attorney for a Northampton dairyman whose license was suspended because he sold milk in multi-quart containers below the minimum price fixed by the Milk Board.

This observer is not qualified to offer any opinion as to who was right and wrong in the dispute, although we are in favor of people being able to purchase milk at as low a price as possible and in any size containers they desire.

The fact remains, however, that Furcolo as Governor is now attempting to remove two State officials for what they did in a case in which he was an attorney and that he is bringing eight judges into the picture to submit a recommendation to him as to what ruling he should make.

One of the other unusual aspects to this case is that up to now it has been the judges themselves who have been most zealous in upholding the constitutional provision for the separation of powers between the executive, the legislative and the judicial branches of the government.

Congressional Redistricting

The present session of the Massachusetts Legislature has only one major, king-size headache. That is taxes.

You will be hearing only an occasional passing reference to another headache, which might well have shared top-rank billing all through the first two years of Governor Furcolo's administration, if the Republicans hadn't gained control of the State Senate by the smallest possible of margins.

Put it down in the books now that there will be no changing of the boundary lines of the congressional districts in Massachusetts this year.

Yet, Massachusetts is due to lose at least one congressional seat, and there's a chance she may lose two by the time the returns are in from the 1960 decennial census. By 1962 the present boundaries of the State's congressional districts will have to be changed to meet that condition. If they are not, the Massachusetts quota of Representatives in Congress will be elected by a vote of the State-at-large.

It is virtually certain the matter of congressional redistricting in Massachusetts isn't going to get a real workout until such a time as one party or the other is able to control both branches of the Legislature as well as the Governor's chair.

If no party succeeds in obtaining that power, it would be virtually impossible to produce a redistricting plan that could gain the necessary bi-partisan support to push it through to enactment.

No plan could be worked out this year or next, for example, that would satisfy both the Democratic-controlled House and the Republican-dominated Senate. Even though there was a split among the GOP Senators at the start of the year over the selection of a president, there is no question but that they would vote on straight party lines on the redistricting issue.

The party which finally draws the congressional district lines of the future is pretty sure to dominate the political makeup of the Massachusetts delegation in Congress, and it will have a fairly good chance of dominating State politics for a long time as well.

That is how important the redistricting issue will be. That is why the plethora of bills before this session of the Legislature touching on the issue of congressional boundary lines will arouse nothing more than minor skirmishes.

The big fight on that will not come this year or in 1958. It may not get underway with all the guns booming until we are well along in the 1960's.

Attempt to Abolish Primary

A move is quietly underway on Beacon Hill to deprive Massachusetts voters of a right that has been traditionally theirs back through the decades—the right of nominating in a popular primary the men and women who will stand for election to the State constitutional offices on the Republican and Democratic State tickets.

When a drive was launched in the early 1950's to revive the pre-primary State convention, eloquent and positive assurances were given that even though the conventions were re-established, there would be no attempt to wipe out the popular primary and that the voters would have the final say on what candidates should have the Democratic and Republican nominations for the top State offices.

Those assurances apparently have been forgotten, as so many political promises are, for a group of legislators now are endeavoring to muster support behind a bill which would wipe out the primary as far as the State-wide offices are concerned and leave the nomination of candidates entirely to the delegates to the conventions of the two political parties.

That probably would not mean much to the Republican party because the GOP has a way of invoking party discipline and making the actions of its pre-primary State conventions binding. In modern political history, however, the Democrats have never nominated a slate that was completely accepted by the party's voters.

The rank and file of Democrats invariably turn down at least one of the convention-picked candidates and nominate somebody else in his place. Two of the candidates selected at the Democratic pre-primary convention in Worcester last June were subsequently defeated in the September primary.

Governor Furcolo, if he were consistent, would be morally bound to veto any bill that would wipe out the primary. Furcolo himself was opposed to holding any Democratic State convention at all last year. He announced in advance of the Worcester convention that he would run in the primary, irrespective of what the convention might do.

It would be very interesting to see what attitude he would adopt now if a bill to vest the State conventions of the two political parties with the full and complete power of nominating the State tickets should be enacted and sent to his desk.

1,600 Volunteers Open Red Cross Fund Drive

The 1957 Red Cross Fund Drive was launched last Friday when approximately 1600 volunteer solicitors took up their assignments. Alan T. Shaw, chairman of the drive, expects to reach a quota of March. Advance gifts and $95,000 during the month of initial returns indicate every opportunity for success. The current fiscal year has placed extraordinary heavy burdens upon the local chapter, as major disasters cause heavy outlay of cash.

During the past year the chapter has procured new disaster equipment, including a truck, two-way radio and standby generator.

HIGH SCHOOL IN 1963?

Editor, Newton Graphic: On looking through an old Newton history book, I discovered the citizens here decided they ought to have a high school in 1845 and so voted, but was not until 1859 that the first one was built.

We have known since 1954 we need a second one and so decided. Just hope it doesn't take 14 years to get it ready!

BIGELOW PARENT

CRUMBLING CURBSTONES

Editor, Newton Graphic: Last July (some 10 months ago) city workers pulled up in front of my house and set to work cracking up the curbstones. I had not asked them to do this, but apparently the program called for new curbstones on my street.

They put up wooden forms preparatory to pouring the cement, and then disappeared. A week later they returned and removed the forms, without having poured any cement, leaving the curbstones a crumbling mess and a disgrace to the property.

Despite several calls to various city departments, (and promises from them), I have seen no one since. I would like to know what person is in charge of this particular kind of work, so I can contact the right official about having the job completed.

BUY FROM LOCAL COOKIE MERCHANTS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

In past years, carloads of Girl Scouts from outside of the Newton Council have come into our city to sell cookies and deprive our local girls of this opportunity.

If the customers, during this coming week's sale would ask the young salesgirls what council they represent (if they are not already acquainted with the girls as neighbors), we could be sure that our local council would benefit from sales in our community.

MRS. F. LAWTON SWETT, Hyde Neighborhood Girl Scouts, Newton Highlands.

CRITICAL OF SCHOOL BUDGET

Editor, Newton Graphic: As a citizen and taxpayer, I'm shocked at the complete blasé attitude of our Newton School Committee.

A budgetary increase of three-quarters of a million dollars at this time doesn't seem sensible in view of a million dollar loss in taxable property due to a proposed new thruway. Let each taxpayer take the valuation of his home and multiply it by five. When he realizes his increased cost, then perhaps the taxpayer will question the school board as I do. They have a paid publicity department which doesn't explain the increased budget.

As a matter of fact, I would like to examine the school budget in detail. As a long time educator, I'm positive it is loaded with fat.

Deaths

Besides her husband, she leaves one brother who lives in Montreal. Mrs. Leighton was a past reader and active member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Newton.

LEO M. CORBETT

Leo M. Corbett of Newton Corner, who would have been 64 yesterday, died on March 5, following a long illness. He had been in ill health since suffering a shock two years ago.

A native of Somerville, he lived most of his life in Watertown and worked as a guard at Haartz-Mason Co. there. He is survived by two sons, John F. of Somerville and Leo W. of Brighton, and four grandchildren, in addition to his wife, the former Celia Baldasaro.

Where Your Red Cross Dollar Goes!

Did you ever wonder where your charitable contributions go? Your Newton Red Cross invests your dollar in many different parts of the world. It is hard to image that 40c of every dollar that you give to your Newton Chapter is spent for the men in uniform. You help to maintain a far flung network of field stations and hospital workers in practically every country in the Western World. It does not matter whether your son or husband is stationed in the icy waste lands of Greenland, Iceland, "Operation Deep Freeze," or in the steaming jungles of the equatorial regions of South America, Africa and Asia, your dollars are at work. In fact 40c of every dollar continues to bring night and day service when personal and family problems disturb the effectiveness of our citizen soldiers. Would you not want to send your contribution to alleviate the anguish that besets a serviceman when he is thousands of miles away from home?

A further allocation of your Newton dollar is shown to be spent on the Blood Program at the rate of 15c per dollar. Think how far this contribution carries the miracle of post-war medical science. Your contributions have made it possible for many people to have undergone surgery that might otherwise have been practically impossible. Your, continuing gift of Newton dollars to the Blood Program has advanced the use of blood not only here in Newton, but in every city and town in the country.

While less spectacular, the other cents remaining in your dollar have been allocated as indicated on the insert picture. Perhaps a word need be said for the annual contribution to the Disaster Relief Fund. While 8c of every dollar contributed in March is earmarked for disaster reserve, the uncertainties of disaster frequently disrupt this budget. For instance, no advanced budget planning could have foreseen the extensive damage of the Eastern and Western States Floods of 1955. They so far exceeded the annual plan reserve for disaster that two special fund drives were necessary the same year.

This year we have witnessed the International crisis whereby the League Red Cross Societies needed support from all its members societies. The American National Red Cross, of which Newton is a part, had to conduct an emergency appeal. Currently, the floods of Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia and Tennessee, have placed extraordinary burdens. The Spring disaster season will undoubtedly see this year another heavy expenditure.

Your Newton Dollar wisely spent gives you a part in the far flung activities of Red Cross, both National and International. Will you give generously this year to especially support your local program and at the same time maintain our share in a great international humanitarian movement?

Warren Activities

Reporters: Edith Prentice and Margaret Steadman

The Red Cross Sewing Club, sponsored by Miss Sheehan, makes animals, aprons, and afghans to help supply hospitals. There are 15 members in this club of which Jane Sherman is chairman.

The Stamp and Coin Club, sponsored by Mr. Manning, has many varied activities. One of the highlights of this year was a talk given by Stamp and Coin Dealer, Mr. Landry. The club had an exhibit in the show case during February. Interesting field trips have been planned by the 20 members and president, Joe Schneider.

Rosaline Rizza is the president of the Junior Red Cross Council, which is comprised of 36 homeroom representatives. The council conducts the annual Junior Red Cross enrollment; makes holiday decorations, albums, and stuffed toys; sends representatives each month to the Inter-City Council; and supervises the filling of gift boxes.

The Travel Club, sponsored by Mr. Lynn, enjoys panel discussions and film strips, and reports about people, places, and events affecting our lives. Its purpose is to develop a better understanding of the world and its cultures. There are 25 members in the Travel Club whose president is Richard Barry.

One of the newest clubs at Warren is the Drama Club which is sponsored by Mr. Purpel. The members hope to produce at least two plays this year. Rehearsals have started for "Elmer," a comedy by Beatrice McNeill.

Warren's Publicity Club, of which Nance MacDonald is Editor-in-Chief, has 22 members. Articles written by the members of the Publicity Club are contributed weekly to the "Graphic." This club, sponsored by Mr. Smith, serves as a public relations organ of the school and satisfies the desires of students who are interested in journalism.

Gerald Cicci is the chairman of the Flying Club which is sponsored by Mr. Manuel. Some typical activities of the club are airplane movies and discussions of new advances and problems of a pilot. Trips to Bedford Airport and Hanscomb Air Force Base are planned for the future.

The Silk Screen Club under the sponsorship of Mr. Mangue is for eighth and ninth graders who take printing for an elective. Susan Haake is the president. At the regular meetings the club members do silk screen printing on paper, wood, cloth, and metal; watch movies; or go on field trips.

The Warren glee clubs are under the direction of Miss Seaver. Sandra McCann is the chairman of the Girls' Glee Club with 65 members, Joe O'Donnell of the Boys' Glee Club with 40 members, and Beth Fellows of the Choir with 35 members.

The Student Council, sponsored by Mr. Newton, has 23 members. John Cannon is the president. During the meetings school problems are discussed and solutions proposed. This year a report has been completed for the improvement of the cafeteria, an assembly committee has been formed, and the new scoreboard has been put up. The purpose of the Student Council is "to bring about the pupils' active participation in its governing, and to develop the spirit of courtesy, cooperation, and service among all members of the School Community."

Kent School of Golf Under Way At Newton Y

The famous rhythm golf system of the Kent School of Golf is again drawing golfers to the Newton YMCA.

Starting yesterday (Wednesday) the "Y" started the first of an eight-week evening course in golf instruction for men and women, either advanced players or beginners.

The course is designed to meet the needs of both the beginner and advanced player, for the fundamentals of golf do not change. As the player progresses, his grasp of the fundamentals increases. So comprehensive is the course, that many players repeat it several times, realizing that with each repetition, they increase their understanding of these unchanging fundamentals and show continued improvement in their game.

Newton Schools Aim to Produce Musically Cultured Graduates

(This article is reprinted from the Newton School Age, a quarterly publication that interprets the aims of Newton's public schools to its citizens.)

Culture is the joining of what one knows with what one feels and does about life. Musical culture is what is left over after all the singing classes, the listening lessons, the band and orchestra are forgotten—the leftover that determines what a man dials on his radio, what concert he attends, if any, and what attitudes he takes to ward the music in his community.

The objectives of music education follow closely the objectives of general education. A most important objective is the training of good citizens. A good citizen should have broad horizons. He should have experienced beauty under many circumstances, developed taste in art and literature. He should have developed a repertoire of good things with which to live a good life.

NO FLASHY BAND

To that end has music been dedicated in Newton. We are proud of our broad general music program. It is an omnibus, with something for everybody. Many a music program put all of its eggs in one basket and comes out with one outstanding activity such as flashy band, orchestra, or chorus. When that unit leaves the city very little music is left behind. This most always turns into a publicity group for the city and quickly ceases to be music education for all children.

The Newton schools present many opportunities for good experiences in music. At an early age children listen to great music of the masters—Tchikowsky, Prokofieff, and the like. They learn to express themselves through singing, moving to music, and a little later have an opportunity to learn to play an instrument of their choice which in turn leads to an opportunity to play in a school ensemble. It is important at this level to let the "feeling" of music permeate the child as a language before the grammar is begun.

CONSUMER OF THE ARTS

In junior high school the child is ready for new experiences in chorus, band and orchestra and continues to increase his repertoire of music to a considerable extent. The instructor on this level is a specialist in music who helps and encourages the individual student of talent and the possible future consumer of the arts respectively.

The culmination of the program takes place in the high school where again there is something for everyone. There is opportunity for solo and ensemble participation for both instrumentalist and vocalist, high level appreciation and harmony courses, program experience in which music, drama, dance, and are correlated in major Broadway hits such as Brigadoon, Allegro, Connecticut Yankee, Gilbert and Sullivan, and many others. Handel's Messiah, Mendelssohn's Elijah, Brahms' Requiem, Bach cantatas and others have become a part of the lives of many of the high school students through performance by orchestra and chorus. All of them are remembered long after high school and become a part of the cultural life of this new citizen. A surprising number of students have made music a vocation after high school. Others using music as an avocation, take part in great musical experiences in college. More important still is that

CARE Gets Gifts; Girl Does Not

Elizabeth Arac, 9, of 12 Wamsit road, Waban, was hostess at an unusual birthday party on Sunday. Her 11 guests were requested to bring contributions for CARE instead of the conventional birthday gift. For refreshments they helped Mrs. Benjamin Arac prepare some of the foods that go into a CARE package.

Mrs. Arac, leader of her daughter's Bluebird Troop of Campfire Girls, suggested the unique celebration when the girls' study of the CARE program revealed to them how they could help feed many hungry children in other parts of the world. Elizabeth was in favor, as long as mother and dad remembered a birthday gift, which they did.

They have become cultured members of society, discriminating citizens who will see to it that their children and other children get many experiences of an artistic nature.

3,000 Eager Girl Scouts Begin Cookie Drive

Some 3,000 eager Newton Girl Scouts, newly uniformed, will launch their annual Cookie Sale tomorrow afternoon (Friday), determined to go "over the top" of the record $9,000 goal set for this year's sale.

The Scouts as well as the junior Brownies will start ringing doorbells promptly at 4 p.m. Friday and continue their efforts through Monday, March 18, with time off, their mothers hope, for eating, sleeping and school. The five varieties of cookies in ready, foil-wrapped cartons, will be delivered two weeks later.

The Cookie Sale, stressing the principle of "self-help," is the only scheduled annual fund-raising project of the Newton Council. Proceeds will again provide funds for Scout day-camping plus troop programs and equipment, in addition to supporting another Girl Scout undertaking, the Council's newly-acquired overnight camp at Bradford, N. H.

Miss Elizabeth Richardson, executive director of the Newton Girl Scout Council, has stressed the three-way benefits citizens will derive from large purchases.

"Not only do you help yourself, by stocking your pantry with these tasty treats," she stated, "you also help the girls develop into resourceful, dependable young women through their part in the project, and most important, you help provide them with productive, fulfilling camping experiences, which in turn makes them more worthwhile members of the community."

Pledged to refrain from soliciting orders before 4 p.m. on school days, to be responsible for keeping her records in order, and to respect the rights of her sister Scouts, each girl participating in the sale is carrying out the Girl Scout principles of honor, resourcefulness and reliability.

Relaxing... Across America!

Behind them are the majestic mountain roadways of Southern California and the picturesque desert drive through Arizona.

And ahead lie the broad highways of Texas... the scenic roads that wind through Oklahoma and Missouri... and the great Midwestern turnpikes that lead to the Eastern Seaboard.

What's it like to spend the better part of a week in a 1957 Cadillac?

Well, first of all, there is the marvelous restfulness a Cadillac provides. The car is so incredibly smooth and quiet and comfortable that even the longest journey becomes an occasion for glorious relaxation.

And for the lucky gentleman in the driver's seat, there is the added reward of Cadillac's brilliant new performance.

In fact, the car is so nimble and eager, so responsive and alert that day's end will usually find them well beyond their morning's destination!

And then there will be the many other Cadillac virtues to enhance the pleasure of their journey...

...its vast areas of vision to give them the full panorama of America's great beauty and grandeur

...its extraordinary safety and dependability to add to their peace of mind

...and its remarkable economy of operation to remind them how practical their odyssey is.

So there they are—seeing our wonderful land from the finest vantage point on the American road: through the windshield of a 1957 Cadillac!

Of course, you don't have to travel 3,000 miles in this newest "car of cars" to realize why its owners call it "the greatest of all Cadillacs".

The evidence is waiting in our showroom now—and an hour at the wheel will tell you the whole story.

Community Achievement Award Goal Of Newtonville Woman's Club

The newly formed volunteer committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club to aid the Newton Junior College, together with their chairman, Mrs. Clifford O. Mooney, met at the college Thursday Morning, February 21. They were taken on an inspection tour of the building by Miss Alice Kennedy, Dean of Women, and Mr. Kenneth P. White, Dean of Men, to determine the exact needs of their new project, in furnishing and decorating the social rooms of the school, which include the lounges, music room and conference room.

On Monday afternoon, February 25, education chairman and representatives of other Newton Women's Clubs, with Mrs. Mooney, were entertained at tea by Miss Alice Kennedy, Dean of Women at the Newton Junior College for the purpose of stimulating interest and soliciting their help with the Newtonville Woman's Club project.

Attending the tea were Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite, President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Donald Moody, education chairman of the West Newton Woman's Educational Club; Mrs. John B. Palen and Mrs. Emerson Sylvester, education chairman and co-chairman of the Auburndale Woman's Club; Mrs. Lorimer T. Reed, president of the Waban Woman's Club; Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, education chairman of the Newton Centre Woman's Club; Mrs. Philip Wilbert, education chairman of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands and Miss Margaret Magooley, president of the Newton Community Club.

After inspecting the building, the representatives from the various Newton Women's Clubs realized the great need involved and pledged Mrs. Mooney their support in the undertaking. However, it was felt that full credit for the project should go to the Newtonville Club for initiating the idea. The several representatives will take the information back to their clubs and each will be assigned a specific part to play in this project.

Being a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and also of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs qualifies the Newtonville Woman's Club to enter the Community Achievement Contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Sears Roebuck Foundation. Final date for submitting entries will be November 1, 1957 and final reports on the project must be received at G. F. W. C. Headquarters not later than March 1, 1958. It is in this contest for community achievement that Mrs. Mooney and her committee, together with the other Newton Women's Clubs, will make her bid for prizes and recognition.

The Community Achievement Contest is jointly sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Sears Roebuck Foundation, which is a non-profit corporation organized and endowed by Sears Roebuck and Company to aid in the economic and social improvement of the American Community.

More than $60,000 is offered in State, National and International competition. Prizes are large enough and numerous enough to give every Woman's Club a real incentive and a reasonable chance to win. All prizes won are to be used by the clubs for some community enterprise, the decision to be left entirely to the winning clubs.

Why your telephone company is asking for a price increase on some of its services.

While this new construction has permitted us to meet most service requests, we must do even more before all demands can be filled promptly.

BETTER SERVICE

In your home or in your business, you need good telephone service. But more than that, it should be constantly improving. We believe you are aware of the progress we have made.

Today, 81 per cent of Massachusetts telephone users have fast, modern, local dial service.

This represents a great advance over four years ago when only 65 per cent of telephone users had dial service.

In addition, many customers may now dial direct to Massachusetts and New England points beyond their local calling areas, and even to New York and Philadelphia. More of this direct distance dialing is planned, and it will be only one of many improvements now scheduled for your telephone service.

VITAL TO ECONOMIC PROGRESS

Our program of improvement and expansion has meant employment and wages for many groups of men and women. Millions of dollars have been spent in the last five years for new buildings and building additions in 165 different locations throughout the state. Much of this money went to masons, carpenters, electricians, plumbers, and other Massachusetts workers.

Materials and supplies have been bought from hundreds of Massachusetts merchants and manufacturers. For last year alone, these purchases amounted to over $1½ millions weekly.

All of this was in addition to the effect of wages earned and spent right here in Massachusetts by 31,000 telephone men and women.

THE ANSWER

Our problem results from the increased costs of providing service and service improvements. The many economies we have put into effect will not do the job.

The plain truth is that the income we now receive from present rates will not continue to cover all of these costs and adequately maintain our credit.

The answer can be found only in the modest increase in rates we are now requesting.

YOUR Telephone Company is asking the Department of Public Utilities to approve increases in certain telephone charges here in Massachusetts.

We will naturally be giving the Department all the detailed facts, statistics, and evidence needed to judge our request. But because this evidence is extensive and complicated, we would like to give you the simple facts about our request and why an increase is so necessary now.

OUR PRICES BASED ON '54 COSTS

Present-day prices for telephone service in Massachusetts are based on costs as they existed in 1954.

Since then, the cost of almost everything we use has increased substantially for us, just as it has for you. Prices of building materials, supplies, trucks, telephone equipment, and nearly every other item required in telephone construction and maintenance, are higher than ever.

WAGES—OUR BIGGEST EXPENSE

Wages represent our biggest cost in the job of providing you with telephone service. Wages alone make up about two thirds of our operating expenses before taxes.

We have put into effect a great many operating economies and cut costs still further through technical improvements. We are continuing to do so, wherever and whenever we can. But these are not enough.

Our big problem comes from the fact that all of our expenses, including wages, are increasing more rapidly than our revenues.

MEETING DEMAND COSTLY

To provide new service for those who want it, and to maintain and improve the quality of service to present users has required an average outlay for telephone construction of over $1 million a week during the last five years.

This has required more and more equipment, buildings, and lines—all costing more than they did a few years ago.

Assisting Mrs. Johnson at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Guying of West Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Grayson of Newton Centre, John Deming of Newton Highlands, and Russell Johnson of Tufts College.

East L.L. Makes Plans for '57 Baseball Season

The Executive Committee of the Newton East Little League met at the home of the President, Christian A. Herter, Jr., to make plans for getting the 1957 baseball season underway. Those present were Manny Egbert, Mrs. Walter Muther, Mrs. Abbott Spear, J. Nelson Manning, Jr., Walter Kreske, Philip Lowe, William Doherty, George Berry, Jay Gordon, Norman Appleyard, Jr., William Campbell, Charles Delaney, Arnold Dana, Louis Pagano, Robert Elder, Richard Knowles, Jr., Eugene Blinn, Abbott Spear, Harold Brown, Ernest Scialano, Sidney Shifman, Walter Dietz, Jr., Joe Segal, Alvin Sutherland, Alvin Cohen, Aaron Cohen, John Milekic, Albert Wickson and Francis Brayden.

Copies of the Constitution and By-Laws, and a proposed budget for the 1957 season were distributed to each member present.

Walter Kreske, Executive Secretary, announced that the Newton East Little League Charter for 1957 had been procured.

Philip Lowe, Finance chairman, discussed plans for raising the necessary funds to enable a greater number of Newton boys to participate in Little League baseball this year.

It was with deep regret that the Committee learned of the retirement of Edward Lynch who has served as a manager since the inception of the Newton East Little League.

The following committee chairmen were appointed by the president to serve for this season: Finance, Philip Lowe; Managerial, Charles Delaney and Manny Egbert; Try-outs, Wilman Doherty; Commissioner of International and Pacific Coast Leagues, Manny Egbert; Players Agent, Sidney Shifman; Publicity, Mrs. Walter Muther; Playing Field, Richard Knowles; Umpire Committee, Norman Appleyard, Jr. and Joe Segal; Statistics, Martin Boermeester, Jr.

Try-outs are scheduled for April 6 and 7 and further plans for this important day will be made at the next Executive Committee meeting on March 26.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed at which time Mrs. Herter served delicious refreshments.

John S. Ames Jr., state chairman of Republican finances, discussed the party's financial standing with the group and congratulated them on raising 147% of their goal last year. He cited the Newton group as one of the "two or three most successful GOP organizations in the Commonwealth."

Republicans Not Party of Wealthy GOP Women Told

"Republicans are not the party of the wealthy," Mrs. Raymond Wheeler told the Newton Women's Republican Club at a Pillar House luncheon Saturday.

"They have introduced a great deal of progressive labor legislation," said the Republican national committeewoman from Malden, "and many labor leaders admit that they favor the Taft-Hartley law—with the six proposed amendments which have not as yet been added."

Mrs. Wheeler reminded her 100 listeners that Republicans must beware of trading on the popularity of one person, and must build up their organizations more on party principles than on personalities.

Mrs. Parker F. Pond of Newton Centre, president of the group, welcomed the special guests, who included Mayor and Mrs. Howard Whitmore, Jr., State Chairman Charles A. Gibbons and Mrs. Gibbons, Rep. Irene K. Thresher, Rep. George Rawson, and Christian A. Herter Jr. of the Governor's Council.

The speakers were introduced by Mrs. Edward C. Becherer, program chairman.

Party Chairman Gibbons criticized Gov. Furcolo for failing to accept the resignation of the Dept. of Commerce chief, after asking him to resign. He said this leaves the department inactive at a critical time of year when it should be promoting vacation business for Massachusetts.

We are not out to overload a family with excessive monthly payments. There are many who can rightfully afford a new car. But at the same time there are many who meet monthly payments only by cutting into the necessities for their families. We do not enjoy being a party to this kind of hardship. To these, we make this sincere request. Before deciding on a new car, at least examine some of our used cars. ## Do You Know

Massachusetts?

New orders received by Massachusetts manufacturers in December totaled 3.3 percent more than a year ago. Associated Industries reports. Gains over December 1955 appeared in electrical machinery and equipment, 27.3 percent, primary metals 21.0 percent, the miscellaneous group of industries 9.3 percent and in chemicals 6.2 percent. Losses from a year ago were noted in machinery excluding electrical 13.1 percent, textiles 10.1 percent, paper and printing 9.1 percent, rubber goods 8 percent and fabricated metals 7.7 percent.

Drop in Building

The number of new dwellings undertaken in Massachusetts during January was 43 percent less than a year ago. Calculating only those from private enterprise the total was off 50 percent. These figures are as shown by building permits reported to the Department of Labor and Industries by 165 municipalities. Places reporting ten or more new dwellings in January were: Springfield 85, of which 75 were public housing, Waltham 47, Dennis 16, South Hadley 15, Boston and Burlington each 13, Framingham, Westfield and Worcester each 11, Falmouth, Marshfield, Needham and Wakefield each 10.

Active in Aviation

At the end of 1955, Massachusetts had 83 airports, of which 49 were public and 34 were limited, including seaplane bases and heliports. Three of the public Massachusetts airports had runways of 7,000 feet or more. The Commonwealth had 1,295 civilian aircraft, 16,534 pilots, of whom 6,641 were active, and 22 CAA-approved flight and ground schools, as reported by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Beekeepers in Massachusetts last year produced 361,000 pounds of honey, compared with 360,000 in 1955, as reported by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

More than a fifth of the 17,361 farms in Massachusetts, reported by the 1954 Census of Agriculture, were less than 10 acres in size, and two-thirds were less than 30 acres. The average size of all the farms in the Commonwealth was only 82.9 acres, whereas the average for all the states was 242.2 acres.

BEHIND THE TV SCREEN

BY LARRY WITTE

One of the biggest prize-money shows on TV will make its debut next fall. Show will be called "Million Dollar Family" and will have American families competing against each other for a $100,000 jackpot each month and for a seasonal prize of one million dollars. Talk has it that Robert Montgomery might not have his drama series on NBC-TV next fall with his Monday night spot to be taken over by a new Alfred Hitchcock thriller series. We hope the rumors turn out to be false. "Fan mail, I believe can be regarded as an accurate barometer of a show's popularity," says Spring Byington, star of CBS-TV's Monday night "December Bride" series, "and although any performer is flattered to receive a good deal of such mail, this correspondence requires answering. A large portion of the burdensome aspect of fan mail is taken from my shoulders by my daughter, Phyllis Baxley, who is also my very capable personal secretary. Together we go over all the mail I receive and after sorting the letters out according to general classification wade through the pile as I dictate replies to each and every letter. . . . CBS-TV's "Person to Person" to visit Judy Garland, April 5.

LOOK LISTEN: Will Rogers' "Good Morning" series slated to leave the telewaves and be replaced by a country music show. . . . Look alike: Melvyn Douglas and the late Wallace Beery. . . . Xavier Cugat and his lovely wife, Abbe Lane, now heard Wednesday and Friday evenings on NBC-TV in the spot formerly filled by Eddie Fisher. . . . "Tales of Wells Fargo," starring movie-TV star Dale Robertson as agent Jim Hardie will be seen on NBC-TV beginning Monday, March 18. . . .

TV's "Lucy" plays her own version of roulette at which the only losers are her creditors. A gimmick in a forthcoming "I Love Lucy" story calls for Lucy to spread her household bills on a Lazy Susan and spin it. The bill that stays on gets paid. The prop man solved the problem of making one bill stay on the moving platter by using a tried and true technical device—a wad of chewing gum. . . .

Edith Adams, currently starring in Broadway's "Li'l Abner," will play Julie Andrews' Fairy Godmother in Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella" on Sunday, March 31 via CBS-TV. . . . Five musical shows (with a different star each week) will take over for vacationing Arthur Godfrey on Wednesday nights on CBS-TV. Shows will be headlined by Peter Lind Hayes, Guy Mitchell, Jo Stafford, Teresa Brewer and Vic Damone. . . .

LIVE WIRES: Herbert Hoover Reports to the Nation will be seen and heard on CBS-TV and radio, Sunday, March 3. Program will feature Lowell Thomas interviewing the former Chief Executive. . . . A forthcoming "Wire Service" program on the ABC-TV Network will use the United Nations building in New York for locale. A special camera crew has been assigned to shoot background at the United Nations headquarters. . . .

A special award for its aid in combating juvenile delinquency has been made to CBS Radio's "Indictment," Sunday dramatic series in the documentary idiom, by United Community Campaigns of America. . . . Richard Hayes who is busy as vocalist for Robert G. Lewis on CBS has a couple of new tunes out on the Decca label which look like hits: "My Only Love" and "Bringing the Blues to my Door." . . .

The turbulent events which have shaped our lifetime in the quarter of a century from 1930 to 1955 have been compressed and recaptured in a new day-by-day almanac, "History As You Heard It" by Lowell Thomas, news broadcaster on CBS Radio five nights a week. It's published by Doubleday, with an introduction by William S. Paley, Chairman of the Board of Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc. Just thumbing through it at random you'll be amazed, shocked and inspired by how much has happened in 25 years and by how much the world has changed. . . .

RADIO-TV NEWSREEL: Art Carney, who is Jackie Gleason's sidkick on Saturday nights, will star as the hilarious "Charley's Aunt" on CBS-TV's "Playhouse 90" on Thursday, March 28. . . . CBS-TV trying to get Mickey Rooney to sign a long-term contract after he starred in "The Comedian" on "Playhouse 90." . . .

NBC-TV's gotten a vote of confidence in their new "Tonight" show, with Jack Leacockie. Looks like it'll be around for a spell. . . . Coral has just released Lawrence Welk and his Sparkling Strings album. Twelve hits are included in the album such as "Sunrise Serenade," "Jeannine," "Champagne Waltz" and "Twilight Time." Great music by a great musician! . . . NBC-TV working up a full-hour variety show to be headed by Eddie Fisher. . . . Daniel Boone and Sam Houston to get a build-up by way of new telefilm series. . . .

Ed Murrow's "See It Now" to profile "England After Suez" on Sunday March 3, on CBS-TV. . . . Dave Garraway's Today series on NBC-TV will originate in Philadelphia on Monday and Tuesday, March 4 and 5. Show will originate from the Grand Ballroom of the newly opened Hotel Sheraton. . . . That's all for now. . . .

Inspection Tour Before Bedtime May Stop Fire

This is the time of year when a nightly inspection tour of your home may prevent a disastrous fire, reports the Institute for Safer Living.

Studies of the causes of loss of life in night fires made recently indicate that hundreds of persons lose their lives each year because of lack of proper planning.

The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company advises that some one person in the household make an inspection of the home before retiring each night. Check to see that there are no smoldering cigarettes; the fireplace screen is closed; all portable stoves and heaters have been turned off; the furnace is operating properly.

A dress rehearsal for a fire is also advocated by the Institute, so that everyone in the home will know what to do if fire should break out in the night. Especially important is that there be two exits to every sleeping room, and that at least one storm window in each bedroom is unlocked so that a quick exit can be made.

One item of equipment often overlooked by many is a rope ladder which should be available in bedrooms on the second floor. Living quarters should be planned so that there are ready and sufficient means of escape, particularly for persons above the second floor. Fire drill time in every family should be a "must" at regular intervals.

Hundreds of night fire victims fail to escape their peril each year because of panic, terror or bewilderment resulting from a sleep-fogged mind. If you have taken the proper planning measures before retiring, your chances of escaping such a tragedy are much better, the Institute reports.

Newton Girl Scout Activities

Girl Scout Week will commence with Girl Scout Sunday this week, March 10. Girl Scouts and Brownies are expected to observe Girl Scout Sunday by attending services in their respective churches, dressed in full uniform, in a body with their sister Scouts and adult members.

Rev. Frederic Grootsema of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church extends to Newton Girl Scouts and Brownies of all faiths a most cordial welcome to attend service in his church on that day. The sermon topic will be Nicodemus. Girls are asked to meet with Mrs. William Fleming in Founders Hall at 10:30 a.m. Girl Scout personnel will be present at the doors of the church to welcome and direct them. In order that sufficient seats be reserved for the Girl Scouts, it will be appreciated if the troop leaders will notify the church office by phone, LA 5-7898, giving their troop number and the number of girls planning to attend.

Girl Scouts and Brownies planning to attend services at St. Philip Neri Church will meet with Mrs. Robert Ward five minutes before the 9 o'clock mass at the church door.

Girl Scouts and Brownies planning to attend the 8 o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart Church will meet with Mrs. Robert Cahill at 7:45 at the Sacred Heart School. There will be a light repast of hot chocolate after the service at a cost of 25 cents for those wishing to partake of it.

Mrs. Thomas Hughes will meet her group at 8:45 a.m. downstairs in Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church.

Bits From Bigelow

Student Council
Doris Axelrod

The Interscholastic Student Council is interested in incorporating a variety of foods to be served in Newton school cafeterias. Therefore, at the last Inter-School Council meeting, Miss McGovern, city dietitian, was the guest speaker. She explained to the members that the government pays for most of the food served for school lunches. For this reason, they want to give us "the most for our money," or the foods with the highest nutritional value. Soup is not given, she explained, because it is mostly water and therefore does not contain much nutritional content. Desserts might be served. However, the City felt that students would make a meal of them. The Council is working on this and we are sure that a decision will be reached that is satisfactory to all.

Another subject discussed was the inter-school debates. These would be debates held between teams from each school. Possible topics to debate are:

1. Driving age
2. Segregation
3. Alaska's and Hawaii's admission to the Union as states.

Eighth Grade Assembly

Last Tuesday, the eighth grade was called together for an assembly. The purpose of the assembly was to show slides of last year's Science Fair projects as well as those of three years before. In doing so, the science department hoped to give the pupils ideas for projects to be exhibited in this year's fair which is March 21st. These slides were shown to the seventh grade with the same purpose in mind.

The assembly was enjoyed for it was not only fun to see last year's projects, but to see your friends and even yourself in the slides.

The Sports Scene

Jeffrey Cohen
Despite a great all around effort by Bob Stam, the Bigelow five went down to defeat for the second time at the hands of Warren Jr. High, 45-36. A good crowd saw Bigelow drop a rough and tumble decision.

The game started slowly as far as Bigelow was concerned. In four and one-half minutes Warren ran up nine points while Bigelow had to settle for three points scored by Stam. Warren continued to blaze away as Bigelow could do nothing and the score at the quarter was Warren 14, Bigelow 6. Bigelow simply couldn't find the range. They had ample opportunities but couldn't capitalize on any of them.

Neither team could connect for the first four minutes of the second quarter until Stam popped in a one-hander and Warren countered with a lay-up. Bigelow was simply missing with too many shots and easy ones at that. Then a technical foul was called on Warren that seemed to snap the Red and Blue out of their reverie and they started bombing with amazing accuracy. Stam, Jordan, Copeland and Schneider racked up nine points while Warren, finally coming alive, scored six. At the half the score was 23-14 in favor of the visitors from Warren. Bigelow, at the outset of the third period had good cause to start talking to themselves as the ball was rimming the basket and falling out, and just to make things worse, the Warren squad showed no signs of falling apart as they continued to play the steady game that had characterized the first half. Paul Stenberg finally ended the famine by sinking a thirty-foot set shot. Steady Stam accounted for a few more as the Bobcats suddenly came to life. The score, however, was still in favor of Warren, 33-25, at the end of three stanzas.

In the last period the boys from Bigelow scored well from the floor, but were as cold as an iceberg as far as shooting from the four line was concerned. Late in the fourth period Bob "Steady" Stam caught an elbow in the eye and was knocked heavily to the floor, but he gamely stepped to the free throw line and sunk a charity toss. It was too late to save the game, however, and the final score had Warren winning by nine points.

Stam was Bigelow's top gunner with 15 points and a handful of rebounds. Next was Allen Copeland with eight and

Annual Dinner of Cub Scout Pack No. 73 Is Held

The annual Blue and Gold Dinner of Cub Scout Pack 73 of the Peirce School, West Newton, was held in the Educational Building of the Second Church and was attended by about 70 boys, their fathers, den mothers and assistants.

Cubmaster Al Chasson presided over the meeting and head table guests included Miss Ann Caldwell, principal of the Peirce School; Mrs. Chasson; Dr. Ross Cannon, minister of Second Church; Ralph Johnson, Norumbega Scout Executive; and two Newton police officers, Fred Fraini and Neil Dwyer.

The Assembly Hall was decorated with silhouettes of Lincoln and Washington plus centerpieces created by the individual dens. A chicken pie dinner was prepared and served by Cub Scout mothers under the direction of Dr. John Worcester, dinner chairman.

After dinner there was a demonstration of target practice and gun safety by Officers Fraini and Dwyer.

Awards were made to the following Cub Scouts: Lion badges to James Smith, Bruce Jones (1 gold arrow), Donald Johnson (1 gold and 3 silver arrows) and Richard Grossman. Bear badges or gold and silver arrows on same were awarded to: Robert Barnes, Clifford Derrick, Brian Donovan, Richard Grossman, Fred McCarthy, George Russo, William Shriner, Leslie Sweetnam and Peter Weinreb.

Theft Loss Believed To Exceed $600

Following the arrest of a local temporary postal employee recently convicted of stealing mail addressed to the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, the association received notices from contributors reporting approximately $600 lost in cash and checks. It is reasonably certain that these reports do not yet indicate the total loss.

It is expected that the stolen cash donations which have been reported can be recovered, since the postal employee was bonded.

All are urged, therefore, whose check to the association has been outstanding beyond the normal time, to cancel payment on the original check and reissue a new check to the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The Association hopes to have received duplicates of the stolen checks by March 31, so that the amount they represent can be included in the budget for the next fiscal year, which begins April 1.

Blind Woman Has One Wish -- Her Daughter Return

Mrs. Mary White, who has been at St. Raphael's Hall, Newton, under the care of the Catholic Guild for the Blind for the past eight months, has only one wish in life—that her daughter may come and visit her.

The mother, 78, who is seriously ill, pleaded for a daughter, missing for 20 years, to come home.

Alexander White, assistant registrar of voters in Boston, asked police to renew efforts to locate Mary E. White, now 53, and persuade her to return to the family home in South Boston.

White said his sister left home in 1937 saying: "I have to go away for a short time, but I will keep in touch with you."

Since then no word has come from her.

Two Sentenced For Salesroom Break In Newton

Judge Frank J. Donahue in the Middlesex Superior Court in Cambridge last Friday, sentenced two State Prison parolees, arrested at gunpoint in a Newton auto salesroom last December, to a year in the House of Correction.

The defendants, Henry L. McHale, 24, of 197 Cambridge street, Allston, and Clifford J. Farrell, 24, of 11-A Vernal street, Brighton, changed their pleas to guilty to complaints of breaking and entering in the nighttime with intent to steal and having burglar tools in their possession.

TELEVIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

Fred De Cordova, producer of the Ida Lupino-Howard Duff TV series, "Mr. Adams and Eve," laments the fact that a laugh track must be used in every situation comedy show these days. He thinks the laugh track is not only an insult to the audience's intelligence, it also is gradually "killing" comedy on TV.

Jackie Gleason's summer replacement will probably be a stock company headed by Polly Bergen, Bobby Van and George DeWitt from "Name That Tune".... NBC plans to use the Arthur Murray Party and Marquerade Party among their summer replacements.

Don Herbert, television's "Mr. Wizard," fluffed a horsepower quotation and has been bombarded with letters from young listeners ever since. That's one way to find out if anyone is watching.

Steve Allen will have Rev. Billy Graham on his May 12 show, and Albert McCleery is also after the evangelist to narrate his Matinee Theater program on Good Friday.

Ted Mack is going in for all-things and all-that shows. He's planning an All-Quintana program to go with his already finished All-Israeli and All-Irish creations.... As for us, we just want ALL NEWTON to know that we offer the very finest all-around service, on ALL makes, ALL models of television sets. ### Father Time can make money for YOU

Yes sir, Father Time, all by himself, can make money for you. In two ways:

1. If you'll save a little sum every week or every month regularly at Watertown Federal it will be but a few short years until you'll rejoice at the size of the pile of dough Father Time has helped you amass.
2. Father Time sees that the size of your pile at Watertown Federal is further increased by good dividends compounded twice a year (which means that even your dividends will earn dividends).

Two Accident Victims Die; Three Fatalities In Week

Two victims of auto accidents in this city died at Newton-Vellesley Hospital on Saturday, Newton's second and third fatalities since the beginning of the year.

Mrs. Alice W. Perkins, 60, of Framingham, who was injured in March 1 when a car operated by her daughter struck a stone wall at Boylston and Walnut streets in Newton Highlands, died early Saturday morning.

Thomas Bishop Speare, 29, of Holliston, died Saturday night of injuries suffered when he was struck by a trailer-truck on Washington st. in Newton Lower Falls on Friday night.

Newton's first fatality of 1957 occurred when James J. Shea, 3, of Newton Corner, was struck by two cars early Sunday morning, March 3, as he attempted to cross Washington st. During the 12 months of 1956, Newton had four auto fatalities.

Mrs. Perkins suffered head injuries and fractures of both arms and both legs in the accident, which also hospitalized her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Konopka of Natick, for four days.

Speare was struck at 8:55 a.m. by a trailer-truck operated by Arthur J. Singelais of Hamilton, who told police the pedestrian "loomed up in front of him" as he proceeded west.

Raise-

Concluding the custodians' fate: "It has never been the desire of the school custodians to be the highest paid in the state. We do believe we should receive a living wage. We do not believe workers for whom it is against the law to strike should be at the mercy of people who think our salaries, the bread and butter for our children, is a means of saving for the city budget."

It is the custodians' contention that if municipal financing is inefficient it should be a topic for much study.

MRS. ELI FELDMAN of West Newton, president of Louise Waterman Wise Chapter, American Jewish Congress, which is sponsoring its first annual Spring Dinner-Dance March 16 at Hotel Fensgate. Proceeds will go to Louise Waterman Wise Youth Hostel in Israel.

In Tribute To Work of Late Miss Jellerson

across from the Lower Falls post office.

A graduate of Cambridge School in Weston and of Harvard College in 1949, Speare had served in World War II and was vice-president of Alden Speare's Sons Co., a Cambridge plastics concern. He was the grandson of Dr. E. Ray Speare of Newton Centre, trustee and treasurer emeritus of Boston University.

He is survived by his wife, the former Sally Brown, a son, Thomas, a daughter, Sarah, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Speare of Weston; two brothers, E. R. Speare of Winchester and Jonathan of Weston, and a sister, Mrs. Frederick P. Coolidge of Harvard.

Executive Director John A. McCarthy of Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, has paid tribute to the late Miss Louise Jellerson, a Red Cross worker from 1927 to 1949, with the following statement:

"The passing of Miss Louise Jellerson, daughter of the late Joseph L. and Mary Bradbury Jellerson, brings remembrance of the high esteem with which she was regarded in our community."

"After graduating from Smith College with the class of 1907, she taught at the Allen Military School. Later, although devoting herself to an invalid mother and father, she did private tutoring."

"She became associated with

Newton Red Cross in 1927. Her duties took her into all phases of Red Cross work and she carried a terrific burden of its post-war problems concerned with veterans, welfare, production of clothing and surgical dressings, Motor Corps and all volunteer activities. Her loyalty was unsurpassed, giving her all to serving beyond the call of duty, beyond official capacity and acting as a friend, she endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. After more than two decades of faithful service, she retired in 1949.

"Up to the time of her illness, she remained active in the Newton Smith Club and the Newtonville Woman's Club."

completed the task to which it was assigned.

Freedman said he was "disappointed that the Mayor had not appointed an architect" but said he did not know if this was the fault of the subcommittee for not putting on enough pressure, or of the city officials.

Mayor Whitmore said yesterday that he hoped to make a decision early next week after studying the report of the citizens' committee.

Mother Saves Four Children In Fire Here

Four young children were rescued by their mother last week when a two-alarm fire caused $7000 damage to their home, a 2½ story wooden dwelling at 51 Page road, Newton.

The fire was discovered in the cellar by Mrs. Gertrude Roberts. She raced to the second floor and grabbed Ruth, 1, from her crib. She told the twins, Frank and Thomas, 4, and Richard, 3, to hold hands, and led them out the back door to a neighbor's house.

Three other children were at the Horace Mann School. They are Diane, 9; Alan Jr., 7; and Ernest, 6.

Alan Roberts, a Metropolitan District policeman, had left for the Lower Basin station about five minutes before the fire broke out. He returned home as it was being extinguished.

Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr., said the fire's origin was undetermined.

Extension-

addition, would be more than self-sustaining financially." Ryan said the MTA study showed the proposed MTA extension would operate at an annual profit of $354,000 and would carry approximately 10 times the number of passengers now carried on the Newton Highlands branch by the Boston and Albany railroad.

He said the plan investigated by the MTA staff calls for an 1150-foot subway connection between the present Boylston Street subway and the B and A's Highland branch tracks west of Kenmore Square. This, he said, would tie the Highland branch in with the entire MTA facilities.

Ryan cited four major comparisons between the present B & A service on the Highland branch and the proposed MTA service. His comparisons are:

"MTA riding would extend over a 20-hour period whereas present railroad commuting has become entirely a concentrated rush hour business in the morning and evening.

The MTA would be operating frequent and regular service, which is not now offered. Unlike the railroad, the MTA would be carrying passengers not merely to one point in the South Station, but through the Boylston Street Subway, carrying passengers throughout the entire MTA system to the business, industrial, commercial, educational and social centers of Greater Boston served by the MTA.

"The MTA would be offering a greater service at fares significantly below the present railroad fares," he said.

He termed the project to acquire the Highland branch of the Boston and Albany "a golden opportunity" for the MTA to acquire new passengers and to extend MTA service without reaching beyond the outermost boundary of the cities and towns in the MTA district.

He said the MTA staff based their report which showed that the line would have an annual profit of $354,000 on a 20-cent fare on the line which is less than railroad commuters pay at present.

Ryan told the committee that one of the most logical ways of reversing the decline in riders which has taken place over the years is to reach out and attract new riders.

"The basic problem cannot be solved except by increased patronage and the proposed Highland Branch extension offers the most logical and feasible opportunity. It is also safe to say," he said, "that if the Highland Branch extension were not feasible that no rapid transit extension of the MTA would appear feasible."

Ryan said the extension would bring rapid transit to the suburban area west of Boston "which is the area which has had the most significant population growth during the last quarter century.

"For example, Newton, Needham, Wellesley, Weston and Waltham — taken together — had a population increase of 43 percent between 1930 and 1955, but despite this tremendous and continuing growth this western section of greater Boston is served by less rapid transit and by the least amount of MTA fringe parking of any part of the metropolitan area."

MTA general manager Edward B. Dana said the MTA planned to provide 340 car trips a day on the line, if the extension is approved, compared to 41 car trips daily now available to commuters who use the Highland branch of the Boston and Albany.

He pointed out that the MTA could provide adequate all-day service from Riverside to the heart of Boston without street traffic interference.

If the MTA acquires the line substantial economies would be possible in surface lines now operated by the MTA in the area, Dana said. He said the Highland branch would overcome the presently inadequate MTA facilities to the west of Boston without imposing additional burden in the current MTA deficit.

Questioned by Sen. Donald Gibbs (R-Newton) that "Newton and Brookline haven't asked for this, where does the demand come from?" Dana said the demand came from Boston organizations concerned about the overall MTA problem.

Gibbs retorted that he questioned "Boston organizations coming in and interfering with home rule in Brookline and Newton."

Richard H. Sullivan, general superintendent of transportation for the MTA, told the committee that some 80 percent of the passengers on the Riverside extension would be carried during the non-rush hours.

Francis B. Gummere, representing the Boston Conference of Business and Civic Organizations, said his group needed more time to study the MTA study of the extension proposal. He said he represented the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, the Boston Real Estate Board, the Retail Trade Board, the Boston Citizens Council, and the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Sen. Philip G. Bowker (R-Brookline), committee chairman, objected that the MTA did not furnish the committee with a copy of their full report on the Highland branch extension study.

He said it was "strange that the metropolitan affairs committee was not furnished with a copy of the full report" and was not notified of a meeting last Thursday at which MTA officials outlined the report to representatives of the Boston Conference of Business and Civic Organizations and other interested persons.

Herbert H. Harwood, representing the Boston & Albany Railroad, in answer to committee questions about an agreement to sell the right of way to the MTA, said there was only a "tentative estimate" as to price, and that it would be "a very small part" of the estimated cost.

ACTIVE in the leadership of the membership campaign which opened Monday, March 11 by fifty Newton Y.M.C.A. team workers are the above members of the Board of Directors and staff of the Newton Y.

Asked if there is any contemplation by the railroad of reducing service on the Highland Branch in the next 60 days, Harwood said that the operation will remain as at said, and it is only a matter of time until something has to be done.

Harwood said in answer to a question from Rep. Harold A. Palmer (D-Somerville), a committee member, about elimination of commuter service 10 to 15 miles from Boston, that one of the greatest problems railroads face today is the losses on that type of service.

Asked if the B & A would like to discontinue this type of service, Harwood said that it is not a question of "like," that it is purely a question of economics. He had told the committee the railroad has to consider the matter of withdrawal from a field where they are suffering losses and improve service in a field where they can get a return on the investment.

MTA Trustee Ryan told the committee that the estimated total cost figure for acquisition of the B & A right of way was $600,000, in answer to the question the committee had sought to have the B & A representative reply to.

This figure, he said, was used only in the MTA's own estimate and has no other significance — it is only a planning figure.

NEWTON — Angelo Farina of Newton was elected president of his class in building construction at Wentworth Institute, and Paul J. Dennison of Auburndale was elected vice-president of the same class.

Local cynics think it would be fine for Uncle Sam to spend out $5 billion in foreign aid, after the schools, colleges and hospitals needed at home are built.

"Newton Plan" A Success School Committee Is Told By Rinker

Floyd Rinker, head of the "Newton Plan" at the High School, told the members of the school committee Monday night that "in the Newton Plan we are demonstrating success in teaching large numbers and yet we are determined to preserve interest in the individual."

Under the Newton Plan high school students, as part of their regular course, meet together occasionally in large groups of 100 or more for special sessions. For most of the time they meet in regular-size classes but the material taught to the large groups is used in the small ones. Mr. Rinker reported that educators from out the United States have been coming to look at the plan and several have announced plans to incorporate some of the Newton ideas in their programs.

Television may be an outcome, he said, although it is not basic to the plan. He said that a Newton plan course in English might be turned into 140 half-hour film classes to be used with a classroom teacher.

Mr. Rinker said he hopes that some provision for large classes would be made in the construction of the new high school. For this type of teaching large auditorium-sized rooms are needed. He also urged some rearrangement of school space in the present high school.

A course in general education presented in a series of school assembly programs might be one of the outcomes of the Newton Plan, Mr. Rinker suggested.

Plumb. Inspector Coughlin Dead After Short Illness

Bernard V. Coughlin, plumbing inspector for the city, died last Sunday at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a five-week illness.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning (Wednesday) with a Solemn High Mass of Requiem at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, at 9 o'clock.

Born in Newton in 1895, he was the son of the late John and Sarah (McCarthy) Coughlin. An army veteran of World War I, Mr. Coughlin was a member of Newton Post 48, American Legion. He also was a member of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, and was a member and a past president of the New England Association of Plumbing Inspectors.

Besides his wife, the former Bertha McKenna, he is survived by five sisters: Mrs. John Leonard and Miss Sarah Coughlin of Philadelphia; Mrs. John Ryan of Hopkinton; Mrs. William Bagshaw of Watertown; and Mrs. John Chaplin of Astoria, N. Y., and several nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

IDA COVITZ

Mrs. Ida Covitz, 76, who made her home with her daughter at 115 Langley Rd., Newton Centre, for the past year, died on March 9 at Beth Israel hospital after an illness of several months.

A native of Russia, she had lived most of her life in Revere. She is survived by four children, Dr. Edward E. Covitz of Brookline, Mrs. Florence Margold and Mrs. Rita Slater of Newton Centre, and Mrs. Lillian Seligman of Brighton. She also leaves three brothers, two sisters, six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

EMELYN SCOVILLE

Miss Emelyn Scoville, a Newtonville resident for the past 30 years, died at Newton-Wellesley Hospital on March 10, in her 80th year.

A native of Chicago, she attended art school there and had a studio in her Newtonville home many years ago where she painted and did handicrafts. She lived at 343 Cabot St.

Miss Scoville was an active member of St. John's Episcopal Church, where the funeral was held Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Eva Sprott

Funeral services for Mrs. Eva (Stripp) Sprott, 75, of 120 Newell avenue, who died Thursday, were held Saturday afternoon at the Eaton Funeral Home, with Rev. Harold H. Cramer of the Carter Memorial Methodist Church officiating.

Born in Roxbury, she had made her home in Medford for about 30 years, where she was also a member of several of the women societies at the Carter Memorial Church. She was the widow of Charles P. Sprott, who died in 1948.

Surviving are a son, Clifford N., and a daughter, Edith H., both of the Newell avenue address; and three grandchildren, Mrs. Barbara Ann Atkins of Falmouth, Mrs. Janet Goudy of Stoneham and Charles W. Sprott of Georgetown, a senior at Dartmouth College, where he is captain of the hockey team. Burial was in Needham Cemetery.

MARY LEE DAVENPORT

Funeral services for Mary Lee Davenport, 3, who was accidentally hanged in a tree in her yard on Sunday, were held on Tuesday at the Grace Episcopal Church.

The daughter of Robert H. Davenport and Mrs. Neil G. Melone of Concord, who made her home in Newton Corner until 1956, Mary Lee leaves a 4-year old brother in addition to her parents.

MAY BELLE GOODWIN

May Belle Goodwin, teacher at the Newton High School for over forty years, died at her home, 64 Brooks Avenue, Newtonville, on March 11 in her 85th year.

Born in South Berwick, Maine, on July 17, 1872, Miss Goodwin attended the Berwick Academy and then went to Boston University, where she concentrated in the classics — Latin, Greek, and Sanskrit — in the College of Liberal Arts. Not content with her A.B. degree in 1894, she later returned to the Graduate School for an A.M. degree in 1911.

After two years at the Lexington High School, Miss Goodwin joined the staff of the Newton High School in 1899, where she taught Latin and, for a brief time, German. It was due in no small part to her efforts that Newton High School graduates for many years were acknowledged by Harvard College as among the top-ranking students in the College Entrance Board Examinations.

As a teacher, Miss Goodwin

Service Men In The News

Graduated from the Navy's Pre-Flight School at Pensacola, Fla., recently, was Naval Aviation Cadet John A. MacLeod, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. MacLeod of 116 Waverley avenue, Newton.

MacLeod attended Newton Junior College before entering the Naval Aviation Cadet Program.

Russell A. Putnam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Putnam of 140 Crafts street, Newtonville, completed recruit training March 8, at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

Marine 1st Lt. David Ganz recently received his designation as a Naval Aviator at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

Ganz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ganz of 48 Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill, and husband of the former Miss Judith H. Levin of Silver Spring, Md. His wife was present to pin on his wings.

Before entering the flight program in September 1955, he graduated from the University of Massachusetts.

Second Lt. John G. Hennessey, whose wife, Margaret, lives at 166 Waverly avenue, Newton, recently was graduated from the field artillery officers' basic course at The Artillery and Guided Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla.

Lieutenant Hennessey was graduated from Boston College in 1955 and entered the Army in November 1956.

had the ability to make the classics come alive, for to her they recorded living events. Summers spent in study at the American Academy in Rome and among the ruins of that ancient city, were followed by a sabbatical year in which she toured France, tracing the line of Caesar's march through Gaul and visiting historical sites dating from the Roman invasion. These experiences she imparted to her students in such a way as to make them feel that they themselves marched with Caesar or heard the voice of Cicero.

Miss Goodwin retired in 1942, and her passing marks the end of an era at Newton High School which was notable for her work and that of her colleagues in the classical department — S. Warren Davis, Ida M. Wallace, Emily Hazen, and Harriet Poore. To hundreds of Newton graduates these names will bring back grateful memories.

The entertainment committee has prepared a scintillating program of songs, dances, and skits with original lyrics. The cast is comprised of former students of Miss March, teachers and colleagues. ## Rawson Against Chiropractic Bill

Rep. George E. Rawson of Newton will oppose Senate Bill 398 that seeks to admit chiropractors to practice in this state. Terming the bill a "1957 manifestation of a hardy perennial", Rawson says that a careful preme Court decision bearing on the issue has led him to believe the bill is unconstitutional.

In any case, he stated, "it would tend to set up a double standard for the practice of medicine, which is intolerable and definitely not in the public interest."

To practice medicine in this state, one must be a graduate of a recognized school of medicine and pass the examination of the Board of Registration in Medicine. These provisions, Rawson says, protect the health and safety of the public.

The proposed bill would allow chiropractors to set their own standards for practice, but according to Rawson would allow all present chiropractors to practice. He claims this "grandfather clause renders the bill meaningless."

To Entertain At Mt. Ida Party

Members of the community are invited to attend.

Following the concert there will be informal dancing with music by The Continentals, a student band from Tufts University.

Hundreds of High Schoolers Working To Perfect Musical

It will be presented Friday and Saturday evenings, March 22 and 23, at 10 a. m., with a cast of 54, a full orchestra and dance group, supported by hundreds of behind-the-scenes workers. Tickets are available at the high school.

Mayor Calls Public Hearing For Tomorrow Night to Discuss MTA Extension Proposal

Chamber Believes Study Is Needed

The directors of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, meeting Tuesday night at Chef's Restaurant, voted unanimously for legislation providing that more study be given the proposed extension of the MTA over the Highland Branch of the Boston & Albany Railroad. Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., and MTA General Superintendent of Transportation Richard A. Sullivan had differed widely in their estimates of the passenger patronage and the impact on Newton and its tax rate if the proposed service were adopted.

Daniel J. Ahern, Manager of the Metropolitan Division of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce outlined the case in support of the MTA extension and was called to task by President Dwight Colburn of the Newton Chamber because no consultation with the cities and town affected had been arranged before the currently proposed mandatory legislation was introduced in the legislature.

"More and more expensive highways are not the best answer for easy access to the central city," Superintendent Sullivan asserted as he pointed to the experience of the Los Angeles area.

"I don't believe most Newton citizens are ready for the consequential changes of rezoning which would follow the introduction of rapid transit, and there should be a chance for a referendum in the areas most seriously affected by the proposal," said the Mayor.

"The extension of the MTA will be good for Newton as well as for Boston," Ahern stated, as he pointed out that not only would the MTA provide a continuation of commuter service if the B&A should successfully petition to abandon the line, but that the proposed service would be faster, more frequent, for longer periods in the day, and cheaper both for the ride to Boston and because of the combination of rides possible on a single

Food, Liquor, Tobacco and Gambling Taxes Show Increase

How do you measure prosperity? If you gauge the human animal's good times as contrasted with his bad days by the volume of his eating, drinking, smoking and gambling—the distance he drives his automobile and the amount of money he leaves behind when he dies—there can be no question about it.

Massachusetts is knowing an era of great prosperity, never had it so good. Of course, if you use some other standards for appraising prosperity, maybe there's still nothing in that over-worked phrase about "the good days."

At any rate a quick run-down of the figures and estimates released for public inspection by State Tax Commissioner John Dane, Jr., brings some interesting revelations. In fact, they could be a bit on the astounding side a lot of people.

They show:
(1) That restaurant diners are passing up the 99-cent specials in greater numbers than ever. They're ordering from the high-priced parts of the menu. Mr. Dane assures the State's meal tax revenue, which doesn't start

Spring Has Come; Well That's What They Tell Us

Yesterday afternoon (Wednesday) at 4:17 o'clock, Spring was officially here but how wrong the weather facts be!

Instead of that beautiful, warm, sun-shining day what do we get? A damp, cold and snow-laden day!

Garden optimists will tell you that that is good for the flowers which will soon bloom. It will help speed them on their way. But for the everyday citizen, yesterday was a nightmare.

Here our hopes were soaring. Winter had passed and we could begin to shed that heavy winter clothing. Who's kidding who. Better keep that snow shovel handy for a little while yet.

At the same time, Tenley Albright, international figure skating champion and chairman of the state-wide appeal for $285,000 said: "The 1957 Easter Seal campaign is the most extensive in the 13-year history of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped." Miss Albright, who has given up competitive skating for a medical career, said, "Realization of our goals to help the crippled as far as we are able in Massachusetts depends upon the success of the public appeal by which the Bay State Society is supported."

Unlike most studies of labor-management relations, concerned with large companies and the unions, this new study reveals the difficulties which threaten the survival of small business concerns when competing with larger company wage patterns and union agreements.

A graduate of Cornell University where he received a bachelor of arts degree, master's and doctorate degrees, Dr. Myers has had wide experience in the field of labor relations.

He is the former Executive Director of the Labor Advisory

2nd H. S. Land Funds Voted

The first hurdle in the plan to build a second high school in this city was accomplished Monday night when the Board of Aldermen voted funds for the purchase of 42 acres of land and for an architect for preliminary studies of a new senior high school on the south side of the city. The architect will be named shortly.

The land to be used for the second high school at a cost of $15,904.38, is near the Oak Hill playground and is now owned by Charles C. Nardone, Jr., of Hollis L. Albright, Kurt E. Schenck, Richard Wolcott and Abraham Moscow. Also voted was $10,000 for the purpose of engaging the services of an architect to make preliminary studies, sketches, drawings and perform other related work in connection with the planning and construction of the proposed new south side high school.

The Board also voted to engage an engineer to make a study of the electric power plant at the high school on Walnut street., to determine whether the city should continue to manufacture its own power or to purchase it from the Edison Company. The request by Building Commissioner Arthur Campbell of $5000 for the study was reduced to $2,500 by the aldermen.

Other appropriations approved by the aldermen were as follows:
Law Department—$375 for settlement of a personal injury claim of Anne W. Manguso in a case arising out of a fall on Cabot street, Newtonville, April 7, 1953; $864 to Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Tolan for land taken for the widening of Grove street; $6200 additional for damages to Joseph B. Davis for the taking of his land in Auburndale square for off-street parking.

The $35,000 appropriation was for the city's share in the reconstruction of Lexington and Auburn streets, West Newton, under Chapter 90 whereby the state pays one-half the cost and

Aldermen Opposed to MTA Plan

The proposed plan to extend the MTA through this city would be opposed by the Board of Aldermen, according to its action taken Monday night.

The resolution to oppose the extension, made on a motion of Alderman Harry H. Ham, acting chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, put the board on record in opposition to House Bill 1628, which directs the MTA to extend rapid transit through Newton and Brookline along the Highland Branch of the Boston and Albany railroad. This bill will be the subject of a second public hearing Monday at the State House in Boston.

According to a report of the M.T.A., "this well-populated area comprising the town of Brookline and the city of Newton is the one area of the M.T.A. system that has no real rapid transit, being served by streetcar or bus, in most cases with a transfer necessary, subject to intolerable street delays and not conducive to attracting riding on the M.T.A."

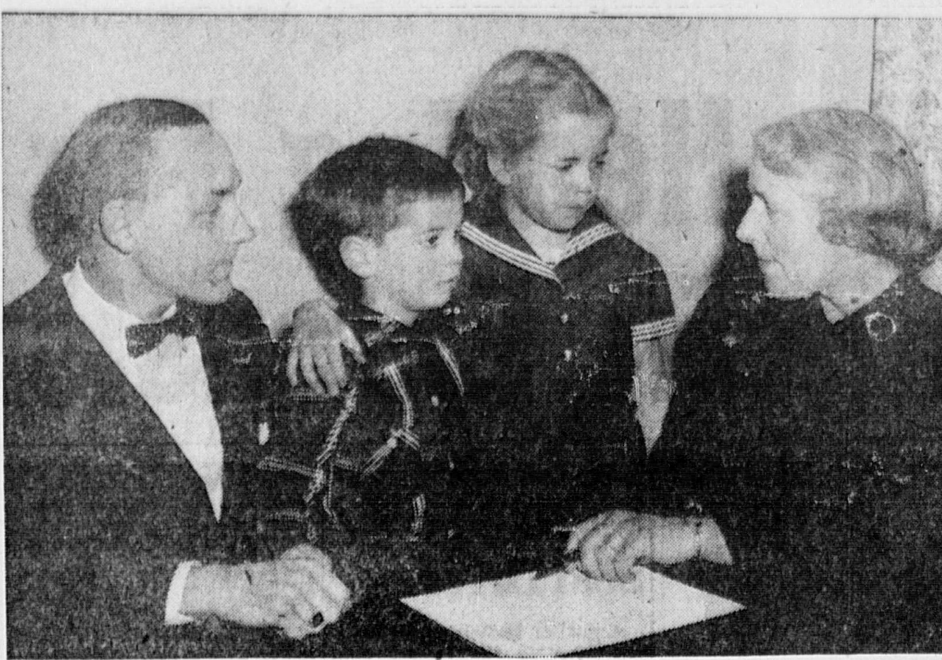

It goes on to state that "the most practical method of providing through and faster service to this area is by including in the M.T.A. system the Highland Branch of the Boston & Albany Railroad, whereby adequate all-day service from Riverside to the heart of Boston without street traffic interference could be provided, and this should encourage less use of private automobiles, with parking areas provided."

In view of the fact that since a hearing was held at the State House, Boston, recently, certain data has become available to the Newton Committee and to the Mayor that should prove more enlightening on this proposed plan, which it is understood, did not originate with the M.T.A. authorities but with five business organizations in Boston.

Mayor Whitmore is desirous of having a large attendance on hand tomorrow night so that a full discussion of the proposal may result.

He also emphasized that a hearing on this plan will be held at the State House, Boston, next Monday at 10 a.m., and urges all residents of this city who can possibly find time to attend, to do so and express their views on the matter.

Brimmer and May School Plans to Open Summer Day Camp

The Brimmer and May School, located at 69 Middlesex rd., in Brookline, announced this week plans for the opening of a Summer Day Camp using the facilities of this well established school.

Mrs. White is a former National Field Hockey Umpire, an Honorary Basketball Official, and Chairman of Northeast Field Hockey Umpiring Association.

Mrs. White lives with her husband and daughter, Carolyn, at Corcoran rd., Burlington.

Mr. Downs is a Graphic Arts Instructor in the Weeks Junior High School where he has taught for the past 16 years. Mr. Downs is actively engaged on the city-wide P.T.A. Television Committee as well as Chairman of the Weeks teachers TV Committee, and publicity chairman of the Massachusetts Industrial Arts Fair coming to Newton in May.

This past year he retired as President of the Boston Assembly of the Society of American Magicians as well as from the office of Worshipful Master of Norwobega Lodge of Masons. He has been on the staffs of The Royal Ambassadors Camp at Ocean Park, Maine, Camp Moy-Mo-Da-Yo in Cornish, Maine and Camp Fessenden in West Newton.

Mr. Downs lives with his wife, Eleanor, and their three children at 34 High st., Newton Upper Falls.

The following activities for boys and girls are listed in the circular: Arts and Crafts, Archery, Badminton, Basketball, Cook-outs, Dancing, Dramatics, Games, Magic, Music, Nature Study, Newspaper, Softball, Special Trips, Stunts, Story Telling, Supervised Reading, Swimming, Table Tennis, Tennis, Tether Ball, Tutoring, Volleyball and Woodwork.

the city and county each pay one-fourth.

The Board approved the retirement from the Street Department as of March 27, of Domenico Venditti.

An offer of $5000 for 150,000 square feet of land on Rumford avenue, West Newton, was refused by the board as "inadequate."

The Board approved increases in existing loans by the Horace Cousens Industrial Fund to $5400 and $3200.

A request by the director of Public Works for $1050 for filling and grading the Beethoven School Playground, Waban, was cut to $800 on condition that the abutter add $250 to the fund.

The taking of land for sewer purposes in private land off Quinobequin road, Waban, at a cost of $100, was approved. The land is to be used for a pumping station which is to be constructed for the new high level Cochituate aqueduct sewer.

The Board approved orders for the taking of land for main drains in Marcellus drive to South Meadow Brook, Oak Hill, and in Selwyn road to Paul Brook, Oak Hill.

cember, 1955, was $111,100. The Peabody Home's total grant was $19,900, of which the March installment came to $9,950.

The amounts were originally computed on the basis of patient days of service and the number of births in each hospital.

Henry T. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation, said that more than half of the grant money is being used for new construction to provide beds for more patients, but many hospitals are using the funds to modernize existing plants or purchase new equipment. The hospitals were restricted from using the funds for operating expenses.

At Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Director William S. Brines reports that the funds are being used — in conjunction with other monies and a federal grant — to complete two floors in an existing building that will increase the number of beds from 230 to about 300. The work is expected to be done early this summer and will relieve some of the chronically crowded conditions.

In addition, Mr. Brines said the accident facilities and admitting services are being improved. The number of accident cases handled per month has doubled in the past three years, he reported.

The Peabody Home plans to spend their Ford Foundation money to partially pay for the improvements of schoolroom facilities for their young patients, who range in age from 5 to 16. According to C. W. Lacy, president of the hospital's board of trustees, this work may take the form of an addition or of interior work on the present buildings.

line would add 54c to the tax rate immediately if the line proved self-sustaining. He warned of a much higher figure if the line did not pay as hoped for or if any of the other bills now before the legislature to change the MTA deficit apportionment should be enacted.

"I doubt that the figures of passenger patronage can be correct which project averages of 1700 more passengers a day at each of the five stations in Newton east of Riverside" the Mayor said.

Stating his opinion that Newton was not ready to be ordered to accept the proposed line especially when it would change much of the city to which the present citizens have moved because of its present character, Mayor Whitmore noted that rezoning would have to follow the change. Underlining the consequential effects of rezoning and its gradual encroachment into residential centers, the Mayor said he did not believe most citizens were ready for that kind of change much as it might mean in initial tax relief. Whitmore then made a strong plea for a referendum feature in the pending legislation now, and for future coordinated rather than piecemeal and project by project legislation on the transportation problems of Boston and the suburbs.

The motion adopted by the Newton Chamber of Commerce was "in favor of a bill to study the same subject matter (the MTA extension) in order to give the cities and towns concerned the opportunity to study its effect on them."

3 Local Women Are Rated for State Positions

Gibbs Says State is Dumping Ground for Illegal Cigarettes

State Senator Donald L. Gibbs (R-Newton) in a statement this week, says that Massachusetts has become a "dumping ground" for smuggled cigarettes on which no state taxes have been paid.

A member of the special Commission on Taxation, he reported the situation came to light after Canadian officials blocked routes through which smugglers had been taking cigarettes into Canada.

Cigarettes, he said, may be purchased in Maryland and Virginia for $1.65 a carton, because there is no cigarette tax in those states.

The Massachusetts tax is 5 cents a package which makes the average carton price about $2.40.

Gibbs stated that smugglers chose this state for dumping loads of cigarettes at "bargain" prices because the other New England states have lower cigarette taxes.

He is backing a tax-stamp program, under which all packages of cigarettes would be stamped to show the state tax had been paid. Gibbs said the stamp plan will be more important than before, if the Legislature adopts Gov. Furolo's proposal to add another cent to the already existing tax. The state collected about 29 million dollars last year through the five cent tax.

A Little Help Needed

Senator John E. Powers (D), Senate minority leader, in a statement made this week asserted that Massachusetts cities and towns should prove a willingness to retrench, or at least hold the expenditure line, before expecting more tax help from the state.

Well Senator, to a degree you are correct—but not wholly so.

Has it ever occurred to you, Mr. Senator, that much of the increase in tax rates is due in no small measure to many of the bills the legislature is continually passing which directly affect the tax rate structure of cities and towns?

We refer specifically to the statutory abatement bills which the legislature has passed, and continues to pass. These statutory abatements, Senator, adds anywhere from two dollars or more to the tax rate structure of cities and towns.

You are partly right in urging communities to retrench. How about asking the Legislature to do likewise? Between the two, perhaps the tax rates of communities then can show a decrease.

That Post Office Deficit

Postmaster General Summerfield has expressed serious concern — and with good reason — over his department's deficit problem.

The deficit will soon approximate a billion dollars a year, he warned, unless postage rates are raised to realistic levels. Indeed, the deficit would have passed the billion mark by now, had it not been for certain financial and management improvements put into effect during the last four years—including increased parcel post rates, higher foreign mail rates, and payment of postage by Congress and government agencies.

The situation is further worsened by the fact that the department faces higher operating costs, due to increased wages and mailing charges. And the fiscal plight is compounded by the department's need to modernize its physical plant to expedite the handling of an ever-increasing volume of mail. As Mr. Summerfield sees it, "the only possible solution is increased postage rates to assure better service and to introduce financial sanity in the handling of the fiscal affairs of this huge businesslike operation within government."

We usually think of these proposed increases in rates in terms of letter postage. But fiscal reforms should not stop there. Parcel Post (the fourth class mail classification) is still operating at a deficit, and is thus subsidized by the taxpayers, despite the rate increases Mr. Summerfield mentioned. And parcel post imposes a heavy burden on the department's facilities that are now in need of modernization and expansion, for it accounts for more than 56 per cent of the weight of all domestic mail.

Making the user pay the full cost of parcel post service would both relieve pressure on the post office department, and on the strained Federal treasury itself. And this would help the department, to quote Mr. Summerfield again, to "... contribute its share to the balancing of the Federal budget, so essential to the economic well being and security of 170 million Americans."

Political Overtones

to apply its 5 per cent bite until the check reaches $1, will be up to $7 million for the current fiscal year. That's $200,000 over last year.

(2) Bay Staters are drinking more. The way the commissioner reads the current returns of the State's haul from the stuff that is supposed to cheer, liquor taxes will bring in a net of around $24.5 million. That's a hike of a cool million over the last fiscal year—a year, incidentally, that was a record-breaker itself.

(3) They're smoking more, too. Dane looks for a State take of $28.1 million in cigarette taxes for the current fiscal period. That represents a lot of cigarettes at 5 cents for every 20 cigarettes. It doesn't take in the Governor's proposed one-cent additional tax. That could add $5.6 million more during the next fiscal year.

(4) They are gambling more. Commissioner Dane figures that when the State's slice of the Sport of Kings is put up on its own tote board, the cash will add up to something like $10.6 million. That will be $300,000 more than the previous 12-month yield. And the State isn't risking a penny. Every time a starting gate swings open on a Massachusetts track, every horse and every jockey are doing something in behalf of the State treasury, regardless of where they finish.

(5) They are giving the family car a big workout, too. Gasoline taxes will yield something like $63 million for the State highway fund. The last fiscal year produced $3 million less than that.

(6) They're leaving more when they die. At least, they were doing so during the first eight months of the present fiscal year which started last July. Even before the lawyers got around to reading the wills, the Commonwealth had $12.2 million earmarked for its treasury for the period from July, 1956, to February, 1957. That's $2.6 million more than Mr. Dane's department was obliged to tote up for a similar period in the preceding fiscal year.

State Revenue Still Insufficient

All in all, Commissioner Dane's estimate would tend to indicate Bay Staters never had it so good. That is true, at least, as far as the hearty eaters, the drinkers, the devotees of Lady Nicotine, the horse players and those who die testate are concerned.

His reckoning also makes it apparent that for the present fiscal year the State is going to smash to smithereens a lot of its tax collecting records.

STAR BOARDER!

It's a lot of money. Placed end-to-end, the banknotes might stretch around the world a couple of times. The only trouble is that they don't stretch far enough to cover the Commonwealth's housekeeping expenses, its pension bills, its employees' salaries, and all the ever-growing commitments of a big sovereign State.

It's money raised by taxes aside from such big revenue-makers as the income and corporation taxes. It's money which comes from what might be termed auxiliary revenue-producing measures, some of which went on the books with most people thinking of them only as temporary.

However, once a tax goes on the books, it stays there as a rule, regardless of how temporary its nature might seem at the start. That's almost axiomatic. Regardless of how those taxes are viewed in the State's economy, they loom pretty large to the average taxpayer. When the sales tax debate gets down to the slugging match it is expected to produce a little later on, they'll be mentioned often.

Tax Laws In Need of Revision

For slipshod, crazy-quilt fabrication, it's doubtful if any State can match Massachusetts' present tax code. Patched and gerrymandered in the years-long search for new revenue and new things to tax, it offers some strange, inexplicable patterns today.

Take a prime example cited before the joint legislative committee on taxation by Jarvis Hunt, general counsel for the Associated Industries of Massachusetts.

It shows how the operation of a few brief lines in the capital gains section of the tax laws makes it possible: (1) to exact an income tax on income which doesn't exist; (2) to allow the State to penalize a taxpayer in some transactions because he happens to live in Massachusetts; (3) to handicap the Commonwealth's own competitive position with other industrial States.

Here's Attorney Hunt's explanation of how one capital gains proviso works out in fact. When a corporation is merged or organized and new stock is issued in lieu of the old, a stockholder is automatically required (if he is a Massachusetts resident) to pay a 7.3 per cent capital gains tax on any increase in the value of the new stock over the purchase price of the old.

In the exchange of stock the stockholder gets no cash. His profit is strictly a "paper profit." If he has no other cash to draw on, he must sell some of the new stock in order to pay the State.

A non-resident of Massachusetts involved in exactly the same exchange of stock is not required to pay any such tax. Why? Well, State tax officials declare that it would be unconstitutional to impose such a tax upon a non-resident. Don't ask us why it is constitutional to impose a tax upon persons who live in Massachusetts but unconstitutional to levy the same tax upon a person who owns stock in a Massachusetts concern but resides outside the State.

Once Massachusetts stood out as the acme when it came to producing laws. Other States had a habit of picking up our statutes verbatim. The trademark, "Passed-in-Massachusetts," on a law meant it was constitutionally sound, fair and workable. No other State is tempted to plagiarize our tax code as it stands today. It's too patched-up; too much the result of expedience and ineffective compromise along with the idea that the taxpayer will in time docilely accept any kind of tax.

Workmen's Compensation Law

An all-out fight for a detailed study of the workman's compensation law was started at the State House today by Massachusetts business and civic leaders.

Roy C. Williams, executive vice president of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, declares that while the incidence of industrial accidents has declined steadily in Massachusetts, the cost of workmen's compensation has skyrocketed to the point where it is now one of the factors which place many Bay State industries at a competitive disadvantage.

Williams cites that the much-discussed workmen's compensation statute has been amended 400 times since it was first enacted 45 years ago but that there never has been a general revision of the law to bring it up to date.

He asserts that Massachusetts now leads the 48 States of the Union in the cost of Workmen's compensation per employee. He reveals that New York held that dubious distinction until it started the kind of commission study of the workmen's compensation statute that Williams is now seeking.

Governor Furolo also is advocating a similar study. Furolo's double-barreled objective is to lower the cost to employers and increase the benefits for employees.

Capital Punishment Law To Go To Voters for Decision

For stark drama during the past several weeks at the State House no hearings have been able to compare with those held by the legislative committee on the judiciary on the measures concerned with the abolition of the electric chair.

A constant listener to every word spoken at such hearings is Mrs. Herbert B. Ehrmann of Brookline. There probably is no better authority on the matter of capital punishment, as it exists in the United States, than this gray-haired, alert woman, who heads the drive to wipe out the death penalty.

She sits at the witness table at these hearings. She takes copious notes on the testimony of the speakers, pro and con. When it comes time for her to speak on any given bill, she has the arguments at her fingertips.

She has been connected with the cause of abolishing capital punishment, not alone in Massachusetts but in other States as well, for many years. She has seen her own Massachusetts Legislature reject the abolition she sought on several occasions.

Indeed, in this State her only major legislative victory of any dimensions was the adoption of the law permitting juries in first-degree cases to append a recommendation for mercy when they return verdicts of guilty in that degree. That was a tremendous advance of her cause.

What are her chances of total victory this year—of achieving the end of extreme punishment in Massachusetts? As far as the legislature is concerned, they are not good. Such a witness as the tragic Mrs. Julia Lovinger, also of Brookline, testifying for the retention of capital punishment, probably destroyed in a few minutes much of the years-long work of Mrs. Ehrmann.

Mrs. Lovinger made an amazing witness. She told of the slaying of her 26-year-old son at the hands of a gang of house invaders, four of whom now await execution at Walpole. Mrs. Lovinger hardly spoke above a whisper. Yet, her words had the strength of shouts which boomed off the four walls. Almost within arm-length of the heart-broken mother sat Mrs. Ehrmann. Her eyes never left the face of the slaying victim.

Such a seasoned campaigner as Mrs. Ehrmann must have known her cause was suffering a severe setback in the few minutes Mrs. Lovinger required to urge retention of the chair.

The best guess at the State House is that of all the

- DEATHS -

A native of Boston, Mr. Shriber was a salesman for the Converse Rubber Co. and had lived in Newton for seven years. He was a member of Temple Emanuel.

Surviving him are his wife, the former Lillian Jaffe, and two daughters, Ruth, 16, a Newton High School student, and Marilyn, 11, who attends the Bowen School. He also leaves two sisters, Ann E. Dosick of Brighton and Rose Cohen of Newton.

ROSE UDIN

Mrs. Rose Udin of 29 Marlboro street, Newton Corner, who lived in this city for 50 years, died on March 15 at the Jewish Memorial Hospital. She was in her late 70's.

A deaf-mute since childhood, she had led an active domestic life doing gardening, sewing, caring for animals, and knitting for the Red Cross during the war. She survived two serious operations 20 years ago, and surprised the doctors during her recent hospitalization by doing occupational therapy despite her handicap.

She is survived by her daughter, Dr. Miriam Udin-Mills of Newton Corner, a grandson, Eugene Mills, and two great-grandchildren. She also leaves two sisters, Anna Kanef of Newton Centre, and Elizabeth Liberman of Chelsea, and a brother, Albert Udin of Newtonville.

JULIA G. LEARY

A Requiem Mass for Miss Julia G. Leary, 86, of 129 Chestnut street, West Newton, was celebrated last week at St. Ignatius Church in Chestnut Hill. The sister of Leo H. Leary, former presiding justice of the South Boston District Court, Miss Leary was a retired Boston school teacher.

A graduate of the old Boston Normal School, she was vice-principal of the Benjamin Pope School in South Boston before her retirement 16 years ago.

NORA M. BROTHERS

Mrs. Walter P. Brothers, the former Nora M. Tracey, died unexpectedly at her West Newton home on March 15. A native of Ireland, she had lived in this city for 53 years. Her home was at 1583 Washington street.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by seven children: Mrs. Mary Steele of Weston, Major Walter F. Brothers, USAF, of East Longmeadow, John J. of Taunton, Robert G. of Ohio, Mrs. Eleanor Hackett of Maynard, Richard F. of California, and Josephine Brothers of the West Newton address. She also leaves 10 grandchildren.

GRACE H. VAN DEVEERE

Funeral services were held at the Second Church in West Newton on Monday for Mrs. Grace Hunter Van DeVeere of 64 Putnam street, West Newton, who was for many years a buyer for Filene's Gift Shop.

Her death last Friday followed a long illness. Mrs. Van DeVeere had been N. E. sales representative for New York and California gift firms. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Harry Herbert Hale and a brother, E. Whiteford Hunter, both of Newton.

DANA B. CLARK

Funeral services were held on Monday for Dana B. Clark, 66, owner of a Newtonville filling station who died in Florida last week.

Clark, who made his home at 14 Foster street, had lived in Newton for 45 years, and operated the Sunoco station at 869 Washington street. A member of the Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, he was a former member of the executive board of the Newtonville Methodist Church.

Besides his wife, the former Jessie McIntosh, he leaves five brothers and a sister.

FRED L. DAVIS

Funeral services were held this week from his Newtonville home for Fred L. Davis, 74, who died on March 8, following a heart attack. He had been in ill health for some time.

A retired salesman, Mr. Davis had made his home here at 11 Rossmore St., for 26 years. Born in Rhode Island, he was a member of a Somerville Masonic Lodge. His wife, the former Mary L. Woods, survives him.

hills concerning the chair-only one has a real chance of passing.

That's the one which would put the whole issue to the voters in a referendum in the 1953 election. The decision of the voters would have no binding effect, but proponents of the referendum believe it would go a long way toward causing Governors to think twice before commuting a death sentence—if the vote proved to be in favor of the retention of the chair.

Mrs. Ehrmann opposes the referendum. She feels the people might be in favor of keeping capital punishment if a murder case happened to occupy the attention of the voters around election time. And Massachusetts always seems to have a murder fresh in its mind.

DEATHS

MAURICE LEWENBERG

Funeral services were held on Tuesday for Maurice Lewenberg, 61, of Newton Centre, president of the Beacon Wayside floor covering concern, who died on Sunday at Faulkner Hospital.

A World War I veteran, Mr. Lewenberg was a member of Temple Ohabei Shalom of Brookline. He made his home here at 12 Cousins Circle. In addition to his wife, the former Jennie D. Sacknoff, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor L. Simon of Providence, a son Lt. (jg.) Richard H. Loring, USN, of Norfolk, a sister and three brothers.

BENJAMIN G. LEAVITT

Benjamin G. Leavitt, 57, retired industrialist, who made his home at 36 College rd., Chestnut Hill, died on Monday at Beth Israel Hospital.

He headed his own sheet metal manufacturing and distributing firm in Boston for many years, but retired in 1951 because of a heart condition. He had been in failing health for the past five weeks after the sudden death of a brother, Dr. Thomas W. Leavitt of Malden.

Mr. Leavitt had lived in Brookline until 15 months ago, and was active in many philanthropic organizations. He was a member of Temple Israel and B'nai B'rith.

He leaves his wife, the former Fannie Freedman, four sons, James L., Robert G., Henry A., and Thomas D., a brother and a sister.

Miss Boulter died on Sunday of injuries she suffered in a fall at her home, 112 Glen Ave., Newton Centre, the previous day.

The accident occurred as she was helping her invalid uncle on a stairway. She made her home here with her aunt and uncle, Dr. and Mrs. Timothy F. Goulding.

Born in Prince Edward Island, she was graduated from Prince of Wales College there, and from the N. E. Baptist School of Nursing in 1931. Miss Boulter was a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators and served as treasurer of the Mass. Hospital Association.

Mrs. Fix Knauth Named Head Of Family Service Bureau

The annual meeting of the Family Service Bureau of Newton was held Thursday, Mar. 7 at the Parish Hall of the West Newton Unitarian Church. Mrs. Philip A. Segal, President of the organization presided, and gave a brief review of the year's work and announced changes in By-Laws which were read by Arthur M. Jacobs, Treasurer.

Mrs. Catharine S. Holden, executive director, then reported on the work of the staff of the Bureau outlining in some detail the special problems of the past year and the staff work to meet these problems. Social case-work has become increasingly important in this area, and there is growing need for the services of such an agency as this to meet current family problems in the city of Newton.

The speaker for the evening was Dr. Dana McLean Greeley of Arlington Street Church, Boston who spoke with much feeling on the current problems facing the city of Boston and its suburbs in meeting the new challenge of a metropolitan community, with racial and religious groups to blend and utilize to the fullest. He stressed the importance of the "individual" as the important factor in our thinking, and was impressed that our Family Service Bureau was an organization concerned principally with individuals.

Officers elected for the coming year were then announced as follows by the Nominating Committee, Mrs. J. L. Oncley, chairman:

Always on the job—
Because of you!

• When the luxury liner Andrea Doria sank, the skill and courage of many men of the sea were needed to perform the miracle of saving lives. After rescue, countless urgent problems arose from the tragedy to plague the helpless survivors. Through you, your Red Cross was ready, in a few short hours, with hundreds of volunteers and staff members to minister to the needs of the more than 1,600 stunned and injured victims.

But what was more impressive was the warmth with which this help was given. For, through you, your Red Cross was there with gentle hands and the kind of sympathetic wisdom so important to those who receive it. Won't you make sure care is always there... when it's badly needed...
by joining the Red Cross again this year?

Angier Group in One Day Trip

Despite yesterday's storm, sixth-graders in Miss Helen Jaques' class at the Angier School left at 7 a.m. for an unprecedented one-day trip to New York City to visit the United Nations.

The 28 youngsters planned the trip with their teacher as a climax to their study of the U.N. and related topics. They were accorded a special group rate by the New Haven Railroad, and conducted two cake sales and a newspaper drive earlier this year to help pay expenses.

Upon arrival in New York, they went by bus to the Un building, had luncheon in the delegates dining room, went on a conducted tour of the building, and had their dinner on the homecoming train, arriving at Rte. 128 station in the early evening.

Besides Miss Jaques, the following adults accompanied the group: Robert Jackson, acting principal of Angier, Robert Gately, physical education supervisor for elementary schools, Mrs. June Zervas, sixth grade consultant and Miss Florence Georgas, third grade consultant.

Store Owner Slugged and Robbed Here

The proprietor of Fried's Department Store, located on Watertown St., Louis Fried, 60, of 59 Cook St., was assaulted and robbed of $1200 shortly before 10 o'clock last Thursday morning as he drove to work from his Cook St. home.

Heading toward his store, a car in front of Fried halted and he was forced to stop. A man ran from the sidewalk and struck Fried on the side of the head through the open window. "Give me your money or I'll kill you," he commanded. The victim handed over the money which he had in a shoe-box on the seat beside him. The robber then leaped into the first car and escaped.

Fried ran to the store and police were called. He had withdrawn the money earlier from the Nonantum Branch of the Newton National Bank.

The money was to be used at the store to cash checks of industrial workers in the neighborhood, police said.

Washington—The postal savings bank system was established in England in 1861 and adopted by Canada in 1867. It was introduced into the United States in 1910.

ENGINEERING PHYSICS MATHEMATICS

The Melpar Research Department was created to perform study-type research problems and to maintain a high-level staff of experts competent to meet the constant demand for fresh ideas, new solutions. Technically the Research Department is composed of two laboratories; one devoted to Electronics, Communications and Physics, and the other to Operations Research and Digital Computation. Recent and current studies in these laboratories include study and design of Fire Control Systems, Countermeasure Systems, Fuze Design and Development, applications of Information Theory and Coding Techniques to Radar and Communication Systems, applications of game theory and decision theory in their relation to tactical and other operational requirements of weapons systems, and reliability studies. The Digital Computation Laboratory has been an important asset in all of these studies in enabling the processing of large and realistic samples of data compatible with the analysis and evaluation of complex systems. If you are interested in learning more about our organization, write or telephone the Melpar Research Department, 43 Leon Street, Boston 15, Mass.

Warrentes Learn About Colonial Music
Reporter: Carol Sudhalter
A few of Mr. Purple's seventh grade social studies classes, while studying life in colonial America, became interested in the music of that time and took it up as a project. The pupils assigned to this project went to Miss Geraldine Seaver, director of music at Warren. With her assistance the pupils found some songs of colonial America in various music books and recorded them on tape. After this a few social studies classes heard the tape played back to them with explanations given between songs by the girls who had already learned about this music.

Newton Senator Leads Fight in Killing Cigarette Price Law

Newton's Senator Donald L. Gibbs is the man primarily responsible for blocking the enactment of a so-called cigarette price law to cover the sale of cigarettes.

Under the terms of a bill designed to prevent price increases and price-cutting in the sale of cigarettes, a 12.4 percent profit on cigarettes would have been mandatory.

That means that it would be a violation of the law to sell a package of cigarettes without the 12.4 percent mark-up or profit over the wholesale price.

It seemed likely that the measure might be enacted until Senator Gibbs stepped in to spearhead a fight against it on the ground that it was contrary to the public interest.

By the time Gibbs concluded his arguments in opposition to it during a hearing before the legislative committee on taxation the bill obviously was doomed.

If storekeepers choose to cut the price of cigarettes, they'll still be able to do it in Massachusetts, but they likely will not have been able to do so except for the battle set up by the Newton Senator in behalf of the general public.

Highlands Extension Plan Urged

Boston business interests are trying to promote the move for the extension of the MTA rapid transit lines over the Highland branch of the Boston & Albany railroad into Newton. Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. declared this week.

At the same time Whitmore asserted that Newton is "in a dilemma" as to just what it should have in the way of public transportation. He added that no decision can be made until the route of the toll road is finally established.

"Everything is in a state of uncertainty," he observed.

The Newton mayor made this statement while testifying before the joint legislative committee on metropolitan affairs at a public hearing on the proposed MTA extension.

He assailed as "utterly ridiculous" an estimate that 16 to 20 percent of Newton's residents would travel to Boston over the suggested new rapid transit line.

Mayor Whitmore categorically denied that the people of Newton are opposed to progress but declared that they do get their backs up when attempts are made to foist proposals upon them.

"When we get these proposals which are mandatory, then we get our backs up a little until we get an opportunity to sit down and talk things over," he exclaimed.

While charging that Boston business groups are trying to push through the rapid transit extension, Whitmore made it plain that he did not blame

Robert Frost Elected Head Of Teachers Federation

The Newton Teachers Federation held its annual business meeting and banquet at the Meadowbrook Junior High School last Monday. Mrs. Mildred Hood, retiring president, announced the slate of officers who were elected for two-year terms. They are: Robert Frost, president; Lawrence Anderson, vice president; Charlotte Forgeron, secretary and Lawrence Drury, treasurer.

At the conclusion of the business meeting approximately 500 members and guests met for a dinner commemorating the 100th anniversary of the founding of National Educational Association which is affiliated with the local organization. Guests included members of the School Committee; William Powers, of the Board of Aldermen; Hazel Stratton, Director of the Massachusetts Teachers Association; Robert Frost, incoming President of the Newton Teachers Federation; Henry Keyes, chairman of the Newton School Committee; Hugh Nixon, Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Teachers Association; Stacy Bragdon, President of the Massachusetts Teachers Association; John Starie, Regional Field Worker of the N.E.A.; Harold Gores, Superintendent of Schools; Addison Cowles, retiring vice president of the Newton Teachers Federation; and Ella

Gay, retiring secretary, Newton Teachers Federation.
William H. McLin, assistant director of the N. E. A. Legislative Commission, gave the principal address of the evening. Mr. McLin stated that the National Educational Association, with a membership approximating one million members, serves the nation as a resource organization supplying educational information to legislative committees of Congress and to other national, state and local bodies. It also serves to refute misinformation about public education and acts as a guarantee of educational welfare. Mr. McLin spoke of the thirty school construction bills which are now before Congress. He urges his listeners to write to Congress in support of Federal aid since, in his opinion, the passage of such a bill hangs in the balance at this time.

"A great many people," said Mr. McLin, "seem to be willing to advocate the building of schools in other countries through foreign aid from our Federal Government, but these same people have fears of federal control whenever it is suggested that the Federal Government help build particularly needed school houses in our cities and towns."

Eight resignations were accepted and one retirement and two leaves of absence were approved by the board, whose seven members were all present, as was Asst. Supt. of Schools Charles O. Richter, secretary of the School Committee.

The newly-named teachers are:

Ruth A. Horvitz, a Dean's List senior at Smith College who taught last summer in a nursery school and plans to enroll this summer in the Harvard program.

Elizabeth A. Westin, who is majoring in Early Childhood Education at Cornell University and has done settlement house work and recreational work with crippled children.

Meredith C. Winter, a senior at Wheelock, who has done arts and crafts work at the YMCA and volunteer settlement work.

Gloria Posner, second-grade teacher at the Kimball School in Stoughton, who holds an education degree from Boston University.

Frederick S. Bacon, past president of the Newton Y.M.C.A. and chairman of the "Y's" Christian Emphasis committee, will introduce the speaker. Plans for the affair are in the hands of the Christian Emphasis Committee of the association, Mr. Bacon, chairman, and Russell E. Ball, secretary.

Record Budget Is Approved

A possible $3 or more increase in the tax rate here was revealed with the approval of a record $16,345,700 budget by the Board of Aldermen Monday night. This was coupled with the announcement by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., that a supplementary budget is being prepared to provide pay raises for city employees.

The adopted budget provides for a small number of wage increases but Chairman Earle D. Wood of the Finance Committee read a letter from the mayor telling of his intention to submit a supplemental budget for a general salary and wage increase for city employees.

The aldermen cut nearly $350,000 from the recommendations of Mayor Whitmore who had previously cut $307,500 from the requests of various department heads.

The budget is $1,337,000 more than last year, exclusive of $200,000 to $300,000 which the proposed increases in city pay would entail.

At the same time it was pointed out that to help offset these increased expenses and keep the tax rate from soaring was an increase of $300,000 in revenue; an $85,000 extra balance in the so-called Cherry sheet accounting with the state; $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 additional real estate assessments, a possible $300,000 extra distribution from the state, and a possible return of $65,000 from the street bonds as the result of new highway construction legislation.

Mr. Wood pointed out that there is almost $700,000 more to be raised by taxation this year than a year ago and that there is about $100,000 less in the city's surplus than there was last year.

Chairman Wood criticized the School department for increasing its budget from last year by $736,000, including salary increases ranging from $250 to $1110.

"The School department budget," he stated, "reflects a different philosophy of taxation than the rest of the budget. If the city doesn't like our action, let them elect someone else, seems to be the School Committee attitude," he said.

Salary increases voted Monday night, included the following: engineering assistants, health department nurses and dental hygienists, library supervisors, building, plumbing and wire inspectors, 22 skilled laborers in the street department, foremen and supervisors in the street, water and public welfare departments, mostly to pay for overtime work, and social workers in the welfare department.

The board rejected the mayor's recommendation that a deputy sealer of weights and measures be appointed, but approved the following new personnel: a city planner, if the mayor can find the right man for the post; a new clerk for the accounting department; one additional firefighter; an additional supervisor in the library departments; another clerk-typist for the police department; an inspector in the building department; and 15 men for the street department.

The mayor also suggested that an assistant purchasing agent may be engaged, but there was no provision made for that in the budget.

learned many camp-directing skills.

In 1939, she became Executive Director of the Girl Scout Council in Glen Falls, N. Y., and directed their camp for six years. In the Adirondack region she conducted mountain trips with the senior girls who carried their own packs and hiked for miles.

In 1944 she came to Newton as the Executive Director of the Newton Girl Scout Council and directed the Day Camp that was held at Edmonds Park in Newtonville. In 1948 she directed a senior camp for scouts at Camp Mary Day.

In 1954 she had one of the most exciting experiences in her career as the Director of the New England-Canadian Camp for Senior Girl Scouts at Cedar Hill, Waltham. Working with the Canadian Staff and the New England Staff was a most challenging job and as a result this encampment did a great deal to promote Canadian-American friendship and was a way of easing international tensions.

Mrs. Janis Kalnajs, Field Director in the Newton Council, will serve as Assistant Camp Director. She also has had many years of active camping experiences, having served as Camp Counsellor at Camp Mary Day, Camp Four Winds and served last summer as a counselor for the former owners of Camp Wabasso.

They will be assisted by competent unit leaders and assistants, as well as specialists in swimming, boating, nature study, crafts and other camp activities. Waterfront activities are under the supervision of American Red Cross Water Safety Instructors. Meals will be planned by a dietician. There will be a registered nurse in residence and a nearby physician will be on call at all times.

Girl Scout camping, with the stress on unit living and leader-camper planning, is the basis for program at Camp Wabasso.

Camp folders and registration blanks have been mailed to all registered Girl Scouts. Further details may be obtained from the following camp committee. Mrs. J. Bernard Everett, chairman, Miss Ursula Hayden, secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, equipment and supplies, Mrs. Arthur Barnes, services to campers, Mrs. Charles Brown, program, Mrs. John Newall, site and buildings, and Mrs. George W. Lepore as Program Director for the 1957 season of Quabbin Day Camp at Natick-Weston, and of Mrs. Earl Alban, Field Director in the Newton Girl Scout Council, as Administrative Director. This Day Camp has been operated by the Girl Scouts for over twenty years.

Mrs. Lepore is a former director of Quabbin Day Camp and has also directed established camp programs. She is especially well qualified in campercraft and recreational activities.

TIME is even more precious in today's busy world than it was when Mr. Franklin wrote those lines 200 years ago. Wise use of your time brings rewards from every quarter: financially, physically and mentally. Consider how much time you could have for other things if you did all your banking under one roof. A visit to your neighborhood office of the Newton-Waltham Bank gives you all the advantages of complete one-stop banking facilities. The friendly, home-town atmosphere and the big-city services will make your visit doubly enjoyable. Come in to your nearby office soon. It will be well worth your time.

Political Overtones

Governor Pledges Lawmakers To Hold Fire on Sales Tax

Only a small handful of members of the Massachusetts Legislature have declared themselves on Governor Foster Furcolo's proposal for a 3 percent limited sales tax.

A great many persons are beginning to wonder why a vast majority of legislators are still on the fence and have not announced where they stand on the most important measure on which they will vote this year.

One answer may be found in Governor Furcolo's own attitude on the matter. Before he left for a vacation in Florida, Furcolo called groups of legislators into his office to talk to them about the sales tax.

BUT HE DIDN'T ASK THEM TO SUPPORT THE SALES TAX MEASURE. HE MERELY REQUESTED THAT THEY NOT TAKE A STAND ON THE ISSUE WHILE HE WAS AWAY.

That is a pretty gingerly approach by the man who publicly is going all-out to obtain the enactment of the sales tax and is carrying his fight to the people in speeches across the State.

Governor Furcolo is regarded as an eloquent and convincing speaker and super-political salesman. He didn't sound like one, however, in his talks with the men and women who will make the decision on whether Massachusetts is to have a sales tax.

As long as he was taking the time and trouble on the eve of his departure for the South to call in the legislators and talk with them about his sales tax recommendation, it seems strange that he didn't ask them to get behind it rather than to stay on the fence.

The ironical aspect to the situation is that while the legislators are coming in for some criticism from their constituents for not disclosing their positions on the sales tax, they also have the Governor's request ringing in their ears that they not declare themselves.

Maybe the situation calls for unusual strategy. But if Furcolo is asking the people to accept the sales tax, why isn't he asking the lawmakers to do the same?

And while the legislators may appear to be holding their cards close to their vests in the matter of a stand on the sales tax, it would be absurd to conclude it's not dominating their thinking these days.

Every once in a while—in matters having no connection with the tax—reference to the measure crops up on the floor of the House or Senate or in one of the many hearing rooms. Invariably, it's a quick rapier-like feint. Usually the tax isn't mentioned by name. And, unless the speaker is an implacable foe of the sales tax such as Democratic Senate Leader John E. Powers himself, there's no hint of where the legislator may finally align himself on the issue.

For example, the other day the House was considering a request for a rules suspension so that a bill authorizing Malden to pay a $2288 pension to a retired school janitor could be admitted for consideration. Certainly, such a matter would appear to be well removed from the subject of the sales tax.

Suddenly, Representative Charles R. Anthony, Haverhill Republican, was telling the House, "The head of your party, the gentleman in the corner office (Governor Furcolo) is planning on going about the State in a drive to promote the acceptance of a sales tax."

He went on to argue against the admission of the pension bill, pointing out "the promise" of the sales tax is to help cities and towns reduce real estate taxes. "We are surely going to lessen this benefit IF IT (the sales tax) EVER GOES THROUGH, if we persist in accepting these special bills and allow the spending of more and more tax dollars," declared Anthony.

As it always does—whether on the floor of either chamber or in a hearing room—the mere mention of THAT TAX was met with tight-lipped silence.

The silence is a bit on the ironical side, too, because some of the most voluble legislators who avoid mention of it like a plague today are certain to be shouting their lungs out one way or another tomorrow unless all signs fail.

If the self-imposed embargo on sales tax discussions, either for or against, persists, it is quite likely that one of the most controversial pieces of legislation proposed in years will come before the Legislature with no preliminary skirmishes.

As far as the public is concerned, the battle lines will be un-tested. Even the roles of the top Democrats in the two legislative chambers, Senator Powers and Speaker Michael F. Skerry, will be a bit obscure. Will they fight on prepared lines of defense? Will they attempt to seize the offense and carry the battle against a Governor of their own party?

It is nothing more than pure political common sense to accept the axiom that legislative votes are fashioned long before formal debate begins. Few ayes and nays are changed by debates on the floor. Those votes are all pretty well jelled long before the lawmakers file to their seats. Now is the time for the aligning of those votes.

As far as the public is concerned—and after all it's the public's pocketbook which is up for grabs—the sales tax thinking of only three of the leaders who will decide the issue, is definitely known.

Oddly enough, they are the three top-most Democrats on Beacon Hill—Governor Furcolo, who is determined he'll get a sales tax, and Senator Powers and Speaker Skerry, who are just as determined he won't.

It all makes for quite a bit of public confusion. It puts a lot of sense, too, in one off-hand remark Senator Powers made during a floor debate. "Don't worry," he said. "We'll be here in June, in July, and in August."

Best Shooting Gun Battery in the Nation

Next Monday, (April 1) a group of civilian and military dignitaries will honor an outfit many of the residents of Newton aren't even aware exists.

Yet, night after night, fair or storm, this outfit provides a civic protection akin to the police or fire departments. They protect us against surprise invasion and attack by air. The outfit is Battery D of the 16th Anti-aircraft Gun Battalion and the men who make up this unit are your Newton neighbors and friends.

And on top of that, they just happen to be the best shooting gun battery in the whole nation.

Next Monday morning at 11:30 a.m. Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., will be host to a group of military dignitaries at his office to pay tribute to this military unit.

Battery D of the 16th Battalion has its guns and radars set up on the banks of the Charles River, out by the Working Boys home, in the Highlands. Last year they made several trips to Camp Wellfleet, an Army firing range on Cape Cod. There, through Army Training Tests and other firing tests, this battery hung up the highest score in anti-aircraft history.

IN FIRST PLACE

In the Annual Service Practices, another firing test at Wellfleet, Battery D scored high again, and although another battery of the 16th, stationed at Deer Island in Winthrop, took top honors, the Newton group gained the high overall average for 1956 firing for a battery and led the 16th Battalion to first place among the 39 other gun battalions in the Army Anti-aircraft Command.

The battery is stationed there for a single purpose: to protect the greater Boston area from an enemy air attack should one ever occur.

Three other gun batteries in the 16th and a dozen guided missile sites in three other battalions form a protective ring around the city. They are all part of the 15th Anti-aircraft Artillery Group with headquarters at Fort Banks, Mass.

TO BE HONORED

The entire 15th Group will honor all batteries of the 16th at a giant military review to be held at Suffolk Downs Race Track at 2 p.m. April 1. Major General Raleigh Hendrix, deputy commander of the Army Anti-aircraft Command, will make suitable awards to the battalion and to Battery D. The general public is invited to witness this colorful ceremony.

Battery D is fairly typical of the anti-aircraft batteries in and around Boston, except, of course, it is the top gun battery in the nation.

On the average morning some 95 men report for duty. They all work eight hour day sharpening the skills that protect this country from air attack, and then about a third of them are required to remain at the site throughout the night, providing around-the-clock protection. Weekends, holidays, rain or shine, there is always a full crew to man the guns and the radars ready to go into action at a moments notice.

Many of the men are married and maintain homes in the local area. They spend a lot of time on duty away from their families and life for them is not too easy. But duty always comes first.

LOCAL MEN ACTIVE

The First Sergeant, for instance, is Master Sergeant Joseph Cahill. As anyone who's been in the service knows, he's the man who has to know everything about the battery; where everyone is at any given moment.

Columbia Ave., Druid Hill Rd., Elinor Rd., Elizabeth Circle.

Alderman Ball transmitting petition of Paul A. Ladabouche, requesting that Waban Park be posted with "no trespassing" signs, and that the Park be re-seeded and trees planted.

J. R. Harrison, Jr., requesting abatement on sewer assessment charge which was allegedly based on an erroneous square foot area.

George W. Eldridge, et als., petition for Street Acceptance under the Betterment Law, Randolph Street from Woodward Street to Dickerman Road.

Janet Black, et als., petition for street acceptance under the General Law, Westfield Road from accepted portion southerly to the end.

Lasell Realty, petition for drain and sewer in Saw Mill Brook Parkway from Vine Street to beyond Eastham Road.

Frances C. Stafford, et als., petition in favor of acceptance of Stetson Way.

Referred To Franchises and Licenses Committee

Herman Posner, 12 Botsford Road, Ward 5, application for auctioneer's license to sell all kinds of merchandise at wholesale in the State of Massachusetts.

Norman F. Young by Richard D. Thompson, Agent, requesting permission to subdivide a lot of 44,414 sq. ft. with a dwelling thereon into three lots with frontage of lot A, 68 feet; lot B, 69 feet; and lot C, 69 feet, more or less at 39 Charles Street, Ward 4.

ment. He arranges the guard roster, picks out the KP's, arranges the leaves and passes and takes care of all the battery's paperwork.

Sergeant Cahill is married and lives in Newton at 118 Wiswall street. Jane Ellen, his nine year old daughter, and Patsy, his seven year old, go to Oak Hill School. On Sundays the family attends Immaculate Conception Church.

Master Sergeant Peter A. Berkich is the Gun Platoon Sergeant, in charge of keeping the guns operating and training the gun crews. He's been in the Army for twenty years, likes it, and is going to stay in for thirty years. He commutes daily from his home in Holbrook.

Berkich is an old soldier. In World War II he saw action all over the Pacific and then went back for the Korean conflict. His men like him and his superiors like him. Major Vincent J. McManus, the battalion commander of the 16th, named Berkich as the outstanding contributor to the scoring record set at Camp Wellfleet. He knows the 90 Millimeter guns as well as anyone in the Army and has great confidence in them as anti-aircraft weapons.

Captain Bonnie W. Griffith, Jr., the battery commander, has been with the Newton battery only since last fall. Before that he was an Infantryman. He took a five months course in artillery and joined the battery just in time to take it to Wellfleet for its record firings.

The site itself has been on the banks of the Charles since 1952, on land owned by the Working Boys Home. It's on a hill and the guns, radars, and the buildings that comprise the site cling to the sides of the slope. The motor pool, where the battery keeps its high speed tractors, used for pulling the guns, is close to the river bank.

FIX UP QUARTERS

Under Captain Griffith the men have been given quite a bit of freedom to fix their quarters up to suit themselves. Outside, of course, the barracks have to be uniform; but the men choose their own colors for the insides and have equipped small recreation areas in each of the barracks buildings.

Varicous people in Newton have helped them out. Local residents donated a TV set and a ping pong table. They also donated an altar for the unit's chapel.

For recreation in the summer the men have a small boat which they run on the Charles. In addition, the battery provides transportation to nearby swimming areas.

The battery often holds "Open House" and visitors are welcome at such times. Local Scout Troops have visited the site. Captain Griffith is often a speaker at local civic gatherings and attends local town meetings.

Recently, a group of state senators made a tour of the site, and like all other visitors, were given a detailed briefing of the battery's operation.

There were other sites they could have visited, but the 15th Group command chose to have them visit Battery D, a unit the Group is extremely proud to call its own. It is the best this nation has to offer in the way of a gun battery, and it is in Newton.

THE MAN WHO OWNED MOBY DICK

It was actually a too-big car. At gas pumps, it drank like a fish. So he called it "Moby Dick."

It even had fins like a fish. Parking it was like trying to squeeze a whale into a goldfish bowl.

He thought about trading "Moby" for an economical little foreign car. It was too little for 5 kids.

So he bought Rambler, only car with room for six 6-footers, plus European car economy, handling ease.

It was a Rambler "6" that set the NASCAR cross country record of 32 miles per gallon with overdrive.

Rambler's 1st in trade-in value among all low-priced cars, because it's the smartest buy, new or used.

Arguments For and Against MTA Extension Plan Aired at Hearing

them for trying to promote their own interests but that he considers it his job to protect the interests of the City of Newton.

"I have no quarrel with Boston business," Whitmore stated. "But what will help one group can hurt another group or several groups."

In objecting to the plan to have the MTA operate over the Highland Branch line, Whitmore said that "if this proposed line does not generate passenger traffic, then the whole deck of cards will crumble, and we would face reduced service and an increase in fares."

Such a line as that contemplated could add $125,000 to Newton's share of the MTA deficit as well as increasing the deficits of all the cities and towns in the MTA district, he maintained.

"Is it fair to have commuters from five or six communities to the west of Boston coming into Newton and forcing Newton to pay the deficit?" he demanded.

Mayor Whitmore questioned a statement by supporters of the MTA proposal that the rapid transit line would be of service to Newton industries.

"There are not too many industries in Newton which would be serviced by such a line," he said. "The proposed new rapid transit line would not take people from Boston to work in Newton but rather would take people from Newton to work in Boston."

Whitmore declared himself against an eminent domain provision in the bill. "If the MTA wants to expand its parking facilities, it should make known its plans to the city," he said.

"I propose that the entire transportation system be given a careful and thorough study, since this problem has defied solution," Whitmore declared.

Mayor Whitmore termed the proposed purchase price of $600,000 for the B & A right of way on the Highland branch "a pretty good shake for the railroad." He said he understood that only a few years ago the B & A was ready to lease the line for $15,000 a year.

Whitmore said he questioned "seriously whether Weston will come into the MTA district. He reminded the committee that the citizens of Weston would have to approve the community's entrance into the MTA district by referendum vote.

He said officials on the local level resent being told what to do by officials of higher levels of government.

He told the committee that officials of all communities in the MTA and MDC districts are being invited to a meeting at Newton city hall so they can discuss the problem. Whitmore said the entire MTA district is involved in the problem, not just Newton and Brookline.

Stanley Epstein of Waban said the 1600-member Waban Improvement Society has voted unanimously to oppose the proposed MTA extension.

Epstein cited recent annual reports of the MTA trustees to combat assertions that frequent service on the proposed extension would generate traffic and accused the proponents of "discrepancies and inconsistencies."

He said a purchase price of $600,000 for the right of way is "exorbitant if the roadbed is in the condition the MTA report says it is in."

Ernest Flagg, representing the Standard Railroad Labor Organizations of the Boston and Albany, said the proposed MTA extension was designed "to siphon business from Brookline and Newton into Boston." He said there is considerable question as to whether the proposed extension "will be a boon or a millstone around the neck of Boston."

Flagg told the committee it has been "pretty well established that the ultimate plan of the railroad is to abandon all transportation from Framingham east." He said this would "strangle" the port of Boston and pointed out that during two world wars the railroads could not handle all the work given them.

He also warned the committee that if the right of way is sold to the MTA it would stop mass transportation to the new Prudential development.

Flagg also pointed out that there would be a labor problem involved because people who have worked for the railroad for 15 or 20 years would be put out on the street and predicted that "the biggest picket line you ever saw will be in front of that tunnel" if the Boston and Albany employees are not taken care of.

He said that on some points on the Highland branch train crews are under orders to proceed at 10 miles an hour because of the condition of the roadbed. In other places, he said, the vision of train crews is blocked by branches. He said the conditions had been reported to management "and they pass the buck around and consequently many things are not done."

He said he had corresponded with Chairman David Brakman of the state Public Utilities Commission "but you can't get the DPU to move."

John R. McIsaac, representing the brotherhood of railway trainmen, said that if the MTA took over the line 75 railroad men would lose their jobs and about 400 or 500 railroad workers would be affected.

He said that it would be impossible for the MTA to get 35,000 persons to use the rapid transit facilities. He explained that "years ago the Boston & Albany ran 30 trains a day on the line, but this figure has now been reduced to 12 a day."

Philip Barsh of Brookline told the committee that only 900 of the 60,000 residents of Brookline use the present railroad service and "it will be impossible for the MTA to increase the passenger count."

Frank Simon of Worcester, representing the brotherhood of locomotive engineers and firemen, said that the bill should be amended to allow the people of Newton and Brookline to vote on the question and that some provision should be made to reimburse the railroad men who would lose their jobs if the MTA took over the line.

The proposed extension of the Metropolitan Transit Authority along the right of way of the Boston and Albany railroad's Highland branch was given vigorous support by business and civic leaders at a continued hearing today.

Francis Gummere, representing the Conference of Business and Civic Organization, termed the proposed extension "an integral and long-desired step in the normal growth of the metropolitan area."

"It is essential to the entire transit district, but especially would benefit Brookline, Newton and Boston. It would also benefit residents of Wellesley, Needham, Waltham, Weston and other outlying communities," Gummere said.

He told the committee on metropolitan affairs that a high speed rapid transit line to Riverside "is a new and ready-made highway uniting the west and the remainder of Boston. It is a modern highway that people can travel without the strain of parking and towing problems, and without the hazards of traffic-choked streets, accidents and intolerable delays."

Gummere said he understood that within a year the Boston and Albany railroad will petition for permission to abandon the Highland branch. Rapid transit service on the line would make the Highland branch "a guaranteed lifeline" for the communities west of Boston, he said.

"In addition to providing a modern commuter line for Brookline, Newton and other western communities, the Highlands branch would mean significant savings to taxpayers of every city and town in the transit district," Gummere said.

"On the basis of actual 1956 MTA assessments, the net profit from the Highlands branch operation would have saved every community except Newton an amount ranging from $1376 for Milton to $262,338 for Boston. The effect on each tax rate would have ranged from a reduction of three cents in Brookline and Milton to 21 cents in Somerville," Gummere said.

"Newton's tax rate," he continued, "would have been increased 26 cents. But the Newton property owner using the Highlands branch line would offset this increase by savings in commuter fares."

Gummere said a study showed the estimated cost of acquiring and Highlands branch and putting a rapid transit line in operation would be $10,600,000. The estimated annual cost of operation, including amortization and interest, would be $1,400,617. Estimated annual revenue would be $2,073,320, leaving a net income of $672,703. However, he said, some 15,000 of the estimated daily passengers on the line would be diverted from lines now in operation. He estimated this loss of revenue at $304,000 which, he said, would leave a net profit of $368,703 "which can be applied against the overall deficit of the MTA."

The line would operate daily from 5:30 a.m. to 1:00 a.m. and would carry an estimated 35,760 passengers on a normal weekday, Gummere said.

Col. Sidney H. Bingham of New York City, a consulting engineer who retired recently as executive director and general manager of the New York City Transit Authority, presented the metropolitan affairs committee with copies of a study he made of the proposed MTA extension.

He said an MTA survey of the line is "conservative in its content and it is undoubtedly true that the patronage and revenues therefrom will exceed the estimates given."

Arthur D. Cronin, Boston businessman and a resident of Newton, told the committee "we in Newton and in all the communities in greater Boston must cease thinking of any improvements for the area good in strictly provincial terms."

Joseph Slavet, representing the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, reminded the committee that Boston pays 66 percent of the MTA deficit "and we would hardly support anything that would add to the deficit." He said the Research Bureau was "convinced" operation of rapid transit service on the Highlands branch "would reverse the tide" of the MTA deficit.

Earl P. Stevenson of Newton, a director of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, told the committee that Newton cannot disassociate itself from Boston. He said he personally favored a study of the proposal by an outside group.

Joseph Lund, chairman of the Boston Citizens Council, said he believed institution of rapid transit service on the line would improve real estate values not only in Boston and Newton but also in communities to the west.

Seth Haywood, executive director of the Brookline Taxpayers association, said his group saw no evidence that the proposed MTA extension would be detrimental to Brookline, he added that his association would not object to further study of the proposal.

George Brown, chairman of the Brookline board of selectmen, said he felt the proposed MTA extension would have a great impact on Brookline "but whether it would be favorable or unfavorable I am not equipped to say at this time." He said the Brookline town meeting members are considering creation of a local planning board and urged that the board be given an opportunity to study the proposal.

Van Ness Bates of Brookline said that the transportation problems of the communities west of Boston "is unresolved in a 20th or 21st century manner." He said there are so many complications to the proposed MTA extension that "deferral at least for the present year is definitely indicated." He urged further study.

Dwight Colburn, president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, also urged additional study.

Supporting the legislation were Rep. Joseph M. O'Laughlin (D-Boston), Rep. William F. Otis (R-Boston), Sen. John E. Powers (D-Boston), Bruce Black, representing the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, Allan Davidson, president of the Retail Trade Board, William H. Kerr representing Mayor John B. Hynes of Boston, John G. Wentworth of Brookline, Bertram A. Druker, president of the Boston Real Estate Board, Rep. John P. Kennedy (D-Everett) representing Mayor Philip J. Crowley and the majority of the Everett board of aldermen, Daniel Bloomfield of the Retail Trade Board, the Boston Street Carriers Union, the Longwood Towers company, the Boston Central Labor Union, and Clyde G. Patten of the Boston Real Estate Board.

Opposing the proposed MTA extension Rep. George E. Rawson (R-Newton) said he did not believe that the MTA could handle the additional traffic at Park St.

"I don't believe the Park St. terminal is big enough to handle the additional traffic and I don't think it could be enlarged without a great deal of expense," he said persons using Park St. during the rush hours now "have to fight for their lives and this would only add to the confusion and danger," Rawson said.

He also said the proposed MTA extension would upset proposed zoning in Newton outside of the business districts. He said the Highland branch now passes through a single family residential district which has some of the highest property assessments in Newton. Use of the branch by the MTA "would very seriously affect these values," Rawson said.

Rep. Rawson warned the committee that if more passengers were added to Park street an impossible situation would be created.

Rep. Irene K. Thresher (R-Newton) said that the figures supplied by the MTA presented a confusing picture. She said there was no question about the need for mass transportation, but added there should be a study.

Rep. Arthur G. Heaney (R-Newton) said that "this arbitrary bill should not be passed." He termed a study the solution. Proponents of the bill, he said, made no attempt to find out how the people of Brookline and Newton feel about it.

Rep. Sumner Z. Kaplan (D-Brookline) said he was concerned about the part the B & A was playing. "There's much more here than meets the eye," he commented.

Matthew Brown placed the Brookline selectmen on record as opposing the bill. He gave the committee a petition in opposition containing, he said, several hundred names. He owns a house along the line, he said, and thinks the proposal would adversely affect property all along the line.

"Is this a glittering thing that is going to turn out sorrowful?" he asked. He said the MTA will need to produce revenue of $1,500,000 a year from the proposed extension just to break even. It is unfair, he said, to request Brookline and Newton to subsidize the MTA just to bring people into Boston.

Brown contended that the proposed MTA rapid transit route would cause damage to $4 million worth of property in Brookline, because proposed service would start at 5 a.m. and cease operations at 1 a.m. while the Boston & Albany service operates only during the rush hour period.

"The people from Brookline and Newton," he said, "haven't asked for this service. This service would increase the present deficit."

Brookline Selectman Eugene P. Carver, Jr., told the committee that the proposed MTA rapid transit service would make traffic conditions "worse and more congested than they are at present."

How much have you earned in your lifetime?

And how much have you saved?

I don't want to make you sad, but ask yourself these two questions, and I'll bet you get a shock.
How much have you earned? (Estimated.) How much have you saved?

It's amazing how many of us let almost ALL of our earnings slip through our fingers.

What if you had saved 10% of all you'd earned? Or 20%?

The only thing to do is to start now to save a definite percentage, and the only way to do that is to take out that percentage FIRST, and get it to Watertown Federal instantly and let it start to earn those good dividends.

From the Office of the President:

"When you join the Red Cross I know you feel, as I do, a sense of personal enrichment and satisfaction."

"As President of the United States, with responsibility for the welfare of the nation, I realize firsthand the wisdom of the Congress that chose to have the Red Cross serve fellow Americans in their times of suffering and need.

"The trust which our government placed in the Red Cross recognized the fact that we, the people, are the Red Cross. All of us, through our contributions, nourish it and give it life. It depends upon us just as we depend upon it when fire, flood, hurricane or any other disaster strikes. It is ready with supplies when blood is needed . . . Its friendly help to our Armed Forces extends around the world . . . And wherever there is human misery and need, the Red Cross is on the job . . . when it counts . . . where it counts. Through your contributions to the Red Cross you share with me, and all Americans, the privilege of giving hope and help to those who need it."

Newton K of C to Join In Nation-wide Observance

Tomorrow (Friday), Newton Council No. 167, Knights of Columbus, will join in a nation-wide observance of the founding of that fraternal order seventy-five years ago on Mar. 29, 1882 in Connecticut.

This year, during the week of Mar. 29, more than one million men, widely spread throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Panama, Cuba and the Philippines, in over 38,000 councils, will celebrate this momentous occasion in the history of their Order—its Diamond Jubilee—with a succession of civic, religious, and social programs.

Relative to the order-wide preparations for the observance of this Seventy-fifth Anniversary, the Honorable Luke E. Hart, Supreme Knight of the Knights of Columbus, recently stated, "Every informed Knight of Columbus realizes that this Diamond Jubilee of our Order bears a great significance. It is more than an opportunity to conduct a series of social events for the edification of the present members, their families, and friends. Our Seventy-fifth Anniversary is a milestone in our history. We must pause, reflect and offer a prayer of thanksgiving. We have been enabled to fulfill the first objective of our far-sighted Founder, the Reverend Michael J. McGivney, the protection and security for the families of deceased members. In addition, the members of our Order, strengthened and encouraged by the similar interest of thousands of others, have accomplished outstanding work in many fields. Civic, religious, patriotic, and educational projects have been conducted by our Councils, not only in their own communities, but, in many cases, on an area-wide and state-wide basis with overwhelmingly successful results. It is our earnest wish that our endeavors in the years to come will meet with the same success that has characterized our work of the first seventy-five years of our organization's life."

The two projects of recent years which have won the widest acclaim for the Knights of Columbus, are its Catholic Advertising Program and the provision for the microfilming of the literary treasures of the Vatican Library in Rome. The first of these, the Catholic Advertising Program, was begun by the Order in 1948 for the purpose of aiding those not of the Catholic Faith to better understand their Catholic neighbors' beliefs. The microfilming project was undertaken in order to protect the priceless contents of the Vatican Library from extinction in the event of disaster and to make the material more accessible to American scholars.

NEWTON COUNCIL K. of C., No. 167, will participate in the observance of the 75th anniversary of the Knights of Columbus and Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., has proclaimed tomorrow (Friday), Knights of Columbus day in this city.
